1. OVERVIEW

1. Mr. John Baldwin and Mr. Shawn Scott, two U.S. entrepreneurs who were experienced in a number of businesses including gambling facilities, became involved in casinos and slot machines in Laos in 2007. For this purpose, they caused two companies to be incorporated in Aruba, the Netherlands Antilles, Lao Holdings NV (“LHNV”), and a subsidiary Sanum Investments (“Sanum”) in Macau (collectively referred to as “the Claimants”). Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Scott, using various corporate structures partnered with a Laotian conglomerate (“ST Holdings”) in two casino projects and three slot machine clubs in Laos positioned near its border with Thailand. One of the casinos, the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino (“Savan Vegas”), was built and operated successfully. The second casino, Paksong Vegas Casino (“Paksong Vegas”), was never built.
2. Within three years there was a falling out between the Claimants and their local partner. ST Holdings ceased cooperation with Sanum, initiated litigation against it and shut Sanum out of Thanaleng, the most profitable of the slot clubs. Mr. John Baldwin testified that ST Holdings was closely connected to leading politicians in the Respondent Government. He said that ST Holdings orchestrated a series of wrongful Government acts against LHNV which led to the result, designed by the Government, of driving LHNV out of Laos and appropriating for the Government the wealth created by the investment and expertise of Mr. Baldwin and his associated companies.
3. The Claimants initiated arbitrations by LHNV under the bilateral investment treaties between Laos and the Netherlands,¹ and by Sanum pursuant to a similar investment treaty between Laos and Macau (now China).² These arbitrations have consumed multiple proceedings and years of litigation. Eventually Sanum obtained an award against ST Holdings from the Singapore International Arbitration Centre (“SIAC”) for over US $200 million. Sanum is not a claimant before this Tribunal, and the Tribunal does not purport to address its claims. However, much of the evidence of Mr. John Baldwin is related to both companies, and as he was the directing mind of both companies, and their principal witness, references will be made to Sanum from time to time (or collectively to “the Claimants” in the plural) as part of the background to the disposition of the LHNV claims. Moreover, counsel for the Claimant advised that it did not withdraw “any factual allegations, as the totality of the facts remain relevant to certain treaty breaches for which the Claimants will seek relief.”³

¹ Agreement on Encouragement and Reciprocal Protection of Investments between Laos and the Kingdom of the Netherlands, signed on 16 May 2003, in force since 1 May 2005.

² Agreement between the Government of the People’s Republic of China and the Government of The Lao People’s Democratic Republic Concerning the Encouragement and Reciprocal Protection of Investments, dated 31 January 1993, as amended on 10 April 2006.

4. The Respondent Government’s position is that it has been dragged into a business dispute between private parties, the Claimants and ST Holdings for whose conduct it has no responsibility. In any event, the Government says, the Claimants’ business efforts in Laos were characterized by bribery and corruption, and their claims ought to be dismissed because of the absence of “clean hands” as well as on the merits. The Claimants point out correctly, that the Government has failed to demonstrate any substantial pursuit of the officials who, in the Government’s view, took the bribes.
5. The Tribunal concludes that the LHNV claims must be dismissed. The dispute grew out of a commercial fight between private businesses. The Respondent Government became involved in aspects of the dispute as a regulator of the gambling business in Laos, as a shareholder in Sanum, and through its responsibility for the administration of justice in Laos, but the Claimants have failed to establish the facts necessary to ground liability in international law under the BIT in those respects.
6. The Tribunal has carefully considered each element of LHNV’s myriad Treaty claims, including the claim of expropriation of Thanaleng and the allegations of breaches of Articles 3(1), 3(2) and 4 with respect to Thanaleng, Savan Vegas and the slots clubs at Lao Bao and Ferry Terminal, and Article 3(4) of the BIT with respect to Savan Vegas, and concludes for the reasons that follow that there is no merit in any of the claims and allegations brought before this Tribunal.

³ Letter dated 26 March 2018 from Claimant to the Tribunal.

7. At the same time, the Tribunal finds that the Respondent has not established bribery and corruption against the Claimants on “clear and convincing evidence”. Nevertheless, the evidence of multiple financial transactions by Mr. John Baldwin with Madam Sengkeo, the Claimants’ local consultant in Laos and conduit to Government officials, taken cumulatively, establishes gross financial impropriety to the lesser standard of a balance of probabilities in respect of some investments as well as bad faith. While the Government has not always behaved appropriately (as found by the Tribunal in the Second Material Breach Application), and politics undoubtedly played a role in the worsening relations between the Government and the Claimants, LHNV has failed to demonstrate any legitimate expectations or establish other violations of the BIT including fair and equitable treatment. The evidence of their principal witness and directing mind, Mr. John Baldwin is not consistent with much of the documentation and is not reliable. Payments on Mr. Baldwin's instructions to a key witness, Madam Sengkeo, to purchase her refusal to testify at the merits hearing, go to the root of the integrity of the arbitration.
8. In all instances LHNV has failed to meet its burden of proof.
9. The claims of LHNV are dismissed with costs.

2. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

10. The Tribunal has issued the following decisions during the proceeding: (i) Decision on Jurisdiction of 21 February 2014; (ii) Decision on the Merits on the First Material Breach of 10 June 2015, (iii) Decision on Costs of 5 November 2015 and (iv) Decision on the Second Material Breach of 15 December 2017 (“Decision on the Second Material Breach”). The full procedural history of this case is described in these decisions. These Decisions, and the Decision on the Second Material Breach, are an integral part of the Award and are appended hereto as follows: i) Decision on Jurisdiction of 21 February 2014 (Annex A); (ii) Decision on the Merits on the First Material Breach of 10 June 2015 (Annex B), (iii) Decision on Costs of 5 November 2015 (Annex C) and (iv) Decision on the Second Material Breach (Annex D).
11. The procedural details of this arbitration following the Decision on the Second Material Breach are summarized below.

12. In the Decision on the Second Material Breach, the Tribunal ruled as follows:

227. The Second Material Breach Application is allowed.

228. Pursuant to Section 32 of the Settlement, the Treaty arbitration is revived on the basis jointly and severally of the Government's breaches of:

(a) Section 8, which promised a "new flat tax", but instead the Government imposed a 28% ad valorem tax on gross gaming revenues;

(b) Section 23, which promised the Claimants relief from "current criminal investigations", which nevertheless have been revived.

229. Both of these breaches constitute material breaches that deprived the Claimants of the intended benefits (or "bargain") promised by each of Section 8 and Section 23.

230. Except as aforesaid, the grounds of revival relied on by the Claimants are rejected.

231. The parties are instructed to confer and propose to the Tribunal a timetable for the renewed Treaty arbitration within 30 days of the date of this decision.

232. A pre-hearing teleconference to resolve any outstanding issues will be held within 45 days of the date of this decision.

233. The issue of costs of this application is reserved to be dealt with at the conclusion of the hearing on the merits.

13. As instructed by the Tribunal in its Decision on the Second Material Breach, on 14 January 2018, the Claimant LHNV [being the sole Claimant in the ICSID proceeding] submitted its proposal regarding the timetable and requested the Tribunal to hold the hearing on the merits for this case after the scheduled hearing of related but separate proceedings identified as Lao Holdings N.V. v. Lao People's Democratic Republic (ICSID Case No. ARB(AF)/16/2)/ Sanum Investments Limited v. Lao People's Democratic Republic (ICSID Case No. ADHOC/17/1) (the "BIT II Proceedings"). The Claimant also requested an in-person pre-hearing conference with the objective of exploring with the Tribunal how to proceed and for the Parties to receive any further instructions.
14. On 18 January 2018, the Respondent filed its response objecting to Claimant's proposal to schedule a hearing after the BIT II Proceedings. The Respondent requested that the Tribunal schedule the hearing in this case within sixteen weeks as to not further delay the proceeding. Further exchanges by the Parties on this matter were submitted by Claimant on 26 January 2018 and 16 February 2018 and by Respondent on 29 January 2018.

15. On 19 February 2018, having heard the Parties' positions, the Tribunal decided the date for the hearing on the merits. The Tribunal invited the Parties to confer on a schedule for the exchange of written submissions and other logistical matters.
16. On 2 March 2018, the Parties informed the Tribunal that they had been unable to reach an agreement on the scope and nature of the Tribunal's instructions from 19 February 2018. As a result, each Party sent its proposal separately for the Tribunal's consideration.
17. On 7 March 2018, the Tribunal decided to schedule a pre-hearing conference and provided the Parties the corresponding agenda of the items to be discussed in the pre-hearing conference. On 19 March 2018, the Claimant LHNV submitted its positions regarding the items in the agenda for the pre-hearing conference as well as a proposed procedural order. On 20 March 2018, the Respondent submitted its comments to Claimant's communication of 19 March 2018 and corresponding proposals. On 21 March 2018, the Tribunal held a pre-hearing organizational meeting with the Parties by teleconference.
18. On 26 March 2018, as discussed during the pre-hearing organizational meeting, the Claimant LHNV provided the list of claims for which it no longer would seek specific relief.
19. On 29 March 2019, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 10 on the organization of the hearing.
20. On 23 April 2018, the Tribunal, through the Secretary of the Tribunal, reminded Respondent of the deadline provided in Procedural Order No. 10 for it to inform whether the Respondent would withdraw any defences in light of Claimant's withdrawal of claims of 26 March 2018. On 24 April 2018, the Respondent confirmed that it maintained its defences.
21. On 15 May 2018, pursuant to paragraph 8 of Procedural Order No. 10, the Respondent filed an Application for Additional Evidence, together with an index of supporting documentation and Exhibits R-001-002, R-004, R-028-029, R-034-036, C-1053, and R-054-055 and three additional documents not identified for the record.

22. On 16 May 2018, each Party submitted the preliminary list of witnesses for cross-examination at the hearing.
23. On 30 May 2018, the Claimant filed its response to the Respondent's Application for Additional Evidence together with Exhibits C-1225 to C-1227, and Legal Authorities CL-379 to CL-389.
24. By letter of 31 May 2018, the Respondent requested the Tribunal to order the Claimant to inform it on the order of presentation of the witnesses to be examined at the scheduled hearing. Additionally, the Respondent requested the examination from Lao PDR via video-link of the following witnesses: Minister Kmabay Damlath, Dr. Sinlavong Khoutphaythoun, and Minister Chaleune Yiapaoheu.
25. On 6 June 2018, the Tribunal provided further instructions to the Parties regarding the submissions on the list of witnesses for cross-examination at the scheduled hearing. On 8 June 2018, the Claimant filed its response opposing the Respondent's request for the witnesses' video-link testimony, together with Exhibits C-1224, C-1235 and Legal Authority CL-390.
26. On 12 June 2018, the Centre informed the Parties that Ms. Catherine Kettlewell, ICSID Legal Counsel, would serve as Secretary of the Tribunal, replacing Ms. Anneliese Fleckenstein.
27. On 15 June 2018, the Respondent filed its reply to its Application for Additional Evidence. On this same date, the Claimant filed its objection to the Respondent's preliminary witness list, together with Exhibit C-1237.
28. On 22 June 2018, the Respondent filed its response to the Claimant's opposition to the examination of witnesses via video-link.
29. On 25 June 2018, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 11, on the Respondent's Application for Additional Evidence.

30. On 26 June 2018, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 12, on the Respondent's request for the examination of witnesses via video-link.
31. On 27 June 2018, the Respondent filed a request for clarification of Tribunal's Procedural Order No. 11. On this same date, it stated its agreement to the full consolidation of this proceeding with the Permanent Court of Arbitration ("PCA") proceeding Sanum Investments Limited (People's Republic of China) v. the Government of the Lao People's Democratic Republic – PCA Case No. 2013-13 (the "PCA Proceeding").
32. On 28 June 2018, the Tribunal issued an amended Procedural Order No. 11, correcting certain typographical errors.
33. By letter of 28 June 2018, the Tribunal informed the Parties that the Claimant's request objecting to the Respondent's witness list was approved and invited the Parties to submit their final witness lists.
34. On 5 July 2018, the Tribunal addressed the Respondent's communication of 27 June 2018, concerning the full consolidation of this proceeding with the PCA Proceeding. The Tribunal informed the Parties that it did not consider the consolidation as "practical or necessary at this late stage of the proceeding".
35. On 6 July 2018, each Party submitted its final witness lists. The Claimant excluded one witness in accordance with the Tribunal's decision contained in its letter of 28 June 2018.
36. On 9 July 2018, the Parties jointly requested the Tribunal for a one-day extension for the further deadlines in the organization of the hearing. On 11 July 2018, the Tribunal took note of the Parties' agreed extensions.
37. On 17 July 2018, the Claimant submitted a request for additional evidence to rebut the Respondent's additional evidence pursuant to the Tribunal's Procedural Order No. 11.
38. On 18 July 2018, the Claimant submitted a request to substitute Dr. Thomas Zitt for Mr. Steven Rittvo for examination on the Innovation Group's Expert Report at the scheduled hearing, together with Exhibit C-1267 and Exhibits A to F. On the same date, the Respondent submitted its objection to the Claimant's request together with Exhibits 1 through 12. On 19 July 2018, the Tribunal invited the Claimant to submit its comments to the Respondent's objection. On 25 July 2018, the Claimant filed its response to the Respondent's objection of 24 July 2018, together with Exhibits G through L.

39. On 25 July 2018, the Respondent filed its observations to the Claimant's request for additional evidence of 17 July 2018. The Claimant's filed its reply on support of its request on 26 July 2018.
40. On 26 July 2018, the Respondent filed additional observations to the Claimant's request for the substitution of experts of 18 July 2018.
41. On 31 July 2018, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 13, deciding that the scheduled hearing would proceed on all issues except for damages and quantum and ruled on the Claimant's request for the substitution of experts to give testimony at the hearing. Simultaneously, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 14 on the Claimant's request for additional evidence as follows:

"1. The following documents submitted by the Claimants are admitted on consent:

Exhibits R-049, C-1240, R-046, C-1241, C-1242, C-0928, C-1243, C-1131, C-1244, C-1245, C-1246, C-774, C-755, C-1226, C-1248, C-1249, C-1250, C-1251, R-026, C-1238 A, C-1238 B , C-1239, C-1256, C-1257, C-1258, C-1259, C-1260, C-1261, C-1262, C-1263, C-1264, C-1265, C-1266 .

2. The Tribunal admits the extracts of the Witness statements of John Baldwin, Angus Noble, William Greenlee and Clay Crawford submitted by the Claimants, but permits the Government to provide additional extracts from the same witness statements which the Government contends are necessary to give "balance" to the extracts submitted by the Claimants, as per the ruling in item 1 above.

3. The Baldwin Statement (Exhibit C-1244) and the Kurlantzick Report (Exhibit C-1247) are not admitted into evidence.

4. The Government's Opening Memorial in SIAC Arb 143/14/MV (Exhibit C-971) is admitted into evidence.

5. The interlocutory correspondence in ICSID Case No ARB (AF)/16/2 (Exhibits C-1252, C-1253, C-1254 and C-1255) are not admitted into evidence.

6. The admissibility of the further report of Professor Joseph Kalt is deferred pending a decision following the merits hearing as to whether a hearing on damages and quantum is required.”

42. On 10 August 2018, the Respondent filed a request to strike the witness statement of Mr. William Greenlee, together with Appendices 1 through 4. By communication of the same date, the Respondent requested leave from the Tribunal to include new evidence into the record (Exhibit LHRE-164 and LHRE-165).
43. On 17 August 2018, the Claimant filed its response opposing the Respondent’s request to strike Mr. Greenlee’s witness statement from the record, together with the following supporting documentation: Exhibit C(B)-434, C(B)-492, C-1242, R-001 and R-036. On the same date, the Claimant filed its observations, partially agreeing with the Respondent’s request to include new evidence into the record. On 20 August 2018, the Tribunal invited the Respondent to comment on the Claimant’s observations.
44. On 20 August 2018, the Claimant filed a request to increase their examination time at the hearing and sent a proposed hearing schedule for the Tribunal’s consideration. On 22 August 2018, the Tribunal invited the Respondent to comment on Claimant’s proposal.
45. On 23 August 2018, the Respondent filed a reply to the Claimant’s response concerning its request to strike Mr. Greenlee’s witness statement and its observations to the Claimant’s position towards its request to include new evidence into the record. This submission was filed together with Appendices 1 through 5.
46. On this same date, the Claimant submitted additional observations to the Respondent’s comments on Mr. Greenlee’s witness statement and requested the Tribunal to strike from the record an exhibit of 291 pages filed by the Respondent together with BDO’s expert report as part of the Respondent’s additional evidence submitted pursuant to Procedural Order No. 11. The Tribunal invited the Respondent to comment on these two submissions by the Claimant.
47. On 23 August 2018, the Respondent submitted its opposition to the Claimant’s request for an enlargement of the examination time, together with Appendices 1 through 3.

48. On 24 August 2018, the Respondent filed its observations on the Claimant's objection to the introduction of the exhibit to BDO's expert report, and its rejoinder on Mr. Greenlee's witness statement.
49. On the same date, the Claimant informed the Tribunal and the Respondent of its decision to withdraw their request to cross-examine Sivath Sengdouangchanh at the hearing.
50. On 25 August 2018, the Claimant requested the Tribunal's clarification on paragraph 3.ii of Procedural Order No. 10, concerning the witnesses' examination. On 26 August 2018, the Respondent filed its observations to this request.
51. On 28 August 2018, the Respondent withdrew the witness statement of Mr. Vanheung (Vanheuang) Nanthachak from the record.
52. On 29 August 2018, the Tribunal issued Procedural Order No. 15, on (1) Respondent's request to strike from the record Mr. William Greenlee's witness statements; (2) Respondent's request to introduce exhibits LHRE-164 and LHRE-165; (3) Claimant's request to extend the time assigned at the hearing; (4) Claimant's request to exclude the BDO Report submitted by the Respondent, and (5) Claimant's request for advance notice for witness examination. These issues were decided as follows:
 - “1. The Respondent's request to strike from the record Mr. William Greenlee's witness statements is premature.
 2. Exhibits LHRE-164 and LHRE-165 are to be admitted into evidence.
 - 3 Each party shall have equal time and is to determine the order in which its own cross-examinations proceed as well as time allocation.
 4. The Claimants' request to exclude from the record the 291 additional pages attached to the BDO Report contained in Exhibit LHRE-161 is granted.
 5. The Parties are not required to provide advance notice of topics to be covered in cross-examination.”
53. By letter of the same date, the Tribunal requested the Parties to confer and provide to the Tribunal a final hearing schedule.
54. On 30 August 2018, the Claimant submitted the Parties' final and agreed hearing schedule.

55. A hearing on the merits was held at Maxwell Chambers in Singapore, from 3 to 7 September 2018 (the “Hearing”). As on previous occasions, the Tribunal conducted the hearing jointly with the Tribunal in the PCA Proceedings. At no time were the ICSID proceedings and the PCA proceedings consolidated. The following persons were present at the Hearing:

57. On 18 September 2018, the Respondent requested the Tribunal to provide further instructions concerning the submission of further pleadings or applications.
58. On 19 September 2018, the Claimant filed a submission addressing the Respondent's closing arguments made at the Hearing.
59. By communication of 20 September 2018, the Tribunal informed the Parties that it would not admit into the record the Claimant's submission of 19 September 2018 and that any further submissions but for those related to transcript issues, would require the Tribunal's approval. The Tribunal invited the Parties to submit their corrections to the Hearing transcript by 28 September 2018.
60. Following the Tribunal's instructions, on 28 September 2018, the Claimant submitted the Parties' agreed transcript corrections to be included by the Court Reporters. Amended transcripts were received from the Court Reporters on 22 October 2018.
61. On 22 February 2019, the Respondent filed its submission on costs and on 7 March 2019, the Claimant filed its submission on costs. On 12 March 2019, the Tribunal invited the Parties to comment on the other Party's submission on costs, if they wished to do so. On 15 March 2019, the Respondent submitted its comments to Claimant's submission on costs.
62. On 2 May 2019, the Tribunal requested the Parties to confirm the Tribunal's understanding that the Award shall be deemed to be made at the place of arbitration, irrespective of where it is signed. Both Parties confirmed the Tribunal's understanding on 6 May 2019.
63. The proceeding was closed on 17 July 2019.

3. OVERVIEW OF THE FACTS

3.1. Laos: Claimants' Investments in Laos

64. As mentioned earlier, the Claimant, LHNV, owned directly and indirectly through its subsidiary, Sanum, gambling assets in Laos including the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino Complex in Savannakhet Province. The Casino is strategically located near the Friendship Bridge which spans the Mekong River between Laos and Thailand. The Claimants also had an investment in “slot clubs” located at the Thai border at Lao Bao and Savannakhet Ferry Terminal (located at the Savannakhet/Mukdahan checkpoint), all in the Savannakhet Province and at Thanaleng to the Northwest. LHNV and its subsidiary Sanum, claim to have invested many millions of dollars in these projects.⁴

⁴ The Claimants' principal, Mr. John Baldwin, testified as follows:

Q. ... Can you tell us when Sanum first invested in Laos and what kind of money it invested, at what time period?

3.2. The Original Treaty Claims

65. The Claimants allege expropriation without compensation and Treaty breaches in respect of their investment in gambling projects described in the Project Development Agreement (“PDA”) dated 10 August 2007 in respect of the Savan Vegas Casino, as well as the three slot clubs, Thanaleng, Lao Bao and Savannakhet Ferry. The claims also relate to the expected expansion of the Savannakhet Airport and opportunities for development in the Special Economic Zone at Thakhet.
66. LHNV initiated its ICSID proceedings on 14 August 2012 against the Respondent, before the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (“ICSID” or the “Centre”) pursuant to the Agreement on Encouragement and Reciprocal Protection of Investments between Laos and the Kingdom of the Netherlands,⁵ and the Arbitration Rules (Additional Facility) of ICSID (“ICSID-AF Rules”).⁶
67. On 14 August 2012, Sanum Investments Limited, a LHNV subsidiary which operated the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino, initiated its claim before the PCA for alleged violations of the Agreement between the Government of the People’s Republic of China and the Government of The Lao People’s Democratic Republic Concerning the Encouragement

A. We – we started investing in Laos in 2007. Our initial commitment was a total of seven and a half million dollars – my recollection is seven and a half million dollars paid to ST Group in various stages, and then the next thing we invested in was getting new plans drawn and studies done for Savan Vegas and Paksong Vegas.

Q. And in what year was that done?

A. That was done in 2008 primarily.

Q. When was the first monies paid? 2007 or 2008?

A. First monies, 2007.

Q. And then the money that was in 2008, can you say during roughly what month?

A. Well, the largest amount of money was paid prior to the Savan – was paid in probably the last six months of 2008.

Q. During all of that time in 2007 and 2008, did you have a flat tax agreement yet?

A. Yes.

Q. Prior – let me show you some documents. Let me show you – and Reciprocal Protection of Investments, dated 31 January 1993 and the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules as revised in 2010.

A. Well, we had an agreement to get the flat tax agreement. The flat tax was approved – the flat tax was approved by Prime Minister Bouasone in [29 December 2008].

68. While the proceedings before the two Tribunals are distinct and separate, the proceedings were the subject of joint Hearings in Singapore and elsewhere. Accordingly, for ease of reference only, LHNV and Sanum will be referred to as "the Claimants", as the facts of the cases are intermingled. This terminology is not to suggest, however, that the two arbitral proceedings are consolidated or otherwise conjoined.

3.3. Claims and Counterclaims

69. The Claimants' original Treaty claims were based on a multiplicity of alleged treaty breaches by the Government including (but not limited to) an 80% tax on casino revenues and what the Claimants contended were unfair and oppressive audits of the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino. In addition, the Claimants alleged that the Government abused its sovereign authority to assist ST Holdings to acquire other assets which belonged in whole or in part, to the Claimants. In the Treaty proceedings, the Claimants eventually valued their investment loss as of 31 August 2016 at between US $690 million and US $1 billion.⁷

3.4. The Settlement and its Aftermath

70. The Treaty claims were thought to have been resolved by a Deed of Settlement concluded between the Parties during the merits Hearing in Singapore on 15 June 2014 (to be read together with a Side Letter dated 18 June 2014) (herein referred to collectively as "the Settlement").
71. Shortly after the Settlement, the Claimants alleged that the Government had committed a material breach of its terms, which entitled them to a revival of the Treaty arbitrations ("the First Material Breach Application"). The Government contested jurisdiction. On 11 August 2014, the Government filed a Notice of Arbitration with the SIAC pursuant to paragraphs 35 and 42 of the Settlement, seeking an order directing Sanum to comply with its obligations under the Settlement.

72. The ICSID and PCA Tribunals held a hearing on 14 October 2014 in Washington, D.C. on the objections to jurisdiction, which were dismissed. However, on 20 January 2015, the High Court of the Republic of Singapore held that the PCA Tribunal did not possess subject matter jurisdiction under the Laos-China BIT because of the status of Macau and issues of state succession not here relevant, as well as the limitation in the BIT, according to which “only disputes over the amount of compensation for expropriation can be submitted to arbitration.”⁸ The First Material Breach Application was dismissed on the merits by the ICSID Tribunal on 10 June 2015. Subsequently, the judgment of the Singapore High Court was reversed by the Court of Appeal of Singapore on 29 September 2016.⁹

3.5. Delimitation of the Relief Presently Sought by the Claimants

73. The Claimants’ Second Material Breach Application was successful, and on 15 December 2017, the Hearing on the merits of the “revived” claim was ordered to proceed. On 26 March 2018, the Claimants advised the Tribunal that they no longer sought relief in respect of “Article 6 expropriation claim regarding the [Savan Vegas], its Article 6 expropriation claim regarding Ferry Terminal or Lao Bao slot clubs [...], or its claims regarding Respondent’s seizure of its bank account in breach of Articles 3(2), 3(4), 4, 5, and 6.”¹⁰
74. The Claimants’ letter of 26 March 2018 notionally divided and separated their surviving claims concerning LHNV (Thanaleng, Savan Vegas and the Ferry Terminal and Lao Bao slots) and Sanum (Thanaleng, Paksan, Thakhet and Paksong Vegas Hotel and Casino). As mentioned, however, counsel for the Claimants asserted in the same letter that “the totality of the facts remain relevant to certain treaty breaches for which the Claimants will seek relief.” Equally, the Respondent conjoined its “clean hands” defence to all claims by both Claimants at issue in the ICSID and PCA proceedings involving Mr. John Baldwin and the various interrelated allegations of bribery and corruption. Accordingly, it will be necessary for the Tribunal to address “the totality” of the factual circumstances of the listed projects of both Claimants insofar as they are relevant to the position of LHNV.

75. The Claimant maintained the expropriation claim pursuant to Article 6 of the Treaty as well as the following Treaty claims:
- (a) denial of fair and equitable treatment and prohibitions on impairment by unreasonable and discriminatory measures in respect of Savan Vegas, Thakhet, Paksan, Thanaleng, Ferry Terminal and Lao Bao (Article 3(1) of the Treaty);
 - (b) breach of contractual obligations regarding Savan Vegas and Paksong Hotel and Casino (Article 3(4) of the Treaty);
 - (c) national treatment regarding Savan Vegas, Lao Bao and Ferry Terminal (Articles 3(2) and 4 of the Treaty);
 - (d) Most Favoured Nation claims regarding Savan Vegas, Thanaleng, Ferry Terminal and Lao Bao concerning full protection and security, most constant protection and security and access to justice (Article 3(2) of the Treaty).

4. RELEVANT ARTICLES OF THE BIT

4.1. The Recitals

76. The Preamble to the Treaty provides, in its relevant part:

Desiring to strengthen their traditional ties of friendship and to extend and intensify the economic relations between them, particularly with respect to investments by the nationals of one Contracting Party in the territory of the other Contracting Party, recognizing that agreement upon the treatment to be accorded to such investments will stimulate the flow of capital and technology and the economic development of the Contracting Parties and that fair and equitable treatment of investment is desirable.

77. Article 2 of the Treaty provides:

Either Contracting Party shall, within the framework of its laws and regulations, promote economic cooperation through the protection in its territory of investments of nationals of the other Contracting Party. Subject to its rights to exercise powers conferred by its laws or regulations, each Contracting Party shall admit such investments.

78. Article 3(1), 3(2), 3(4), and 3(5) of the Treaty, in its relevant part, provide:

1) Each Contracting Party shall ensure fair and equitable treatment of the investments of nationals of the other Contracting Party and shall not impair by unreasonable or discriminatory measures, the operation, management, maintenance, use, enjoyment or disposal thereof by those nationals. Each Contracting Party shall accord to such investments full physical security and protection.

2) More particularly, each Contracting Party shall accord to such investments treatment which in any case shall not be less favourable than that accorded either to investments of its own nationals or to investments of nationals of any third State, whichever is more favourable to the national concerned.

3) ...

4) Each Contracting Party shall observe any obligation it may have entered into with regard to investments of nationals of the Other Contracting Party.

5) If the provisions of law of either Contracting party or obligations under international law existing at present or established hereafter between the Contracting Parties in addition to the present Agreement contain a regulation, whether general or specific, entitling investments by nationals of the other Contracting Party to a treatment more favourable than is provided for by the present Agreement, such regulation shall, to the extent that it is more favourable, prevail over the present Agreement.

(emphasis added)

79. Article 4 of the Treaty provides:

With respect to taxes, fees, charges and to fiscal deductions and exemptions, each Contracting Party shall accord to nationals of the other Contracting Party who are engaged in any economic activity in its territory, treatment not less favourable than that accorded to its own nationals or to those of any third State who are in the same circumstances, whichever is more favourable to the nationals concerned. For this purpose, however, any special fiscal advantages accorded by that Party, shall not be taken into account:

(a) under an agreement for the avoidance of double taxation; or

(b) by virtue of its participation in a customs union, economic union or similar institution; or

(c) on the basis of reciprocity with a third State.

(emphasis added)

80. Article 6 of the Treaty provides:

Neither Contracting Party shall take any measures depriving, directly or indirectly, nationals of the other Contracting Party of their investments unless the following conditions are complied with:

(a) the measures are taken in the public interest and under due process of law;

(b) the measures are not discriminatory or contrary to any undertaking which the Contracting Party which takes such measures may have given;

(c) the measures are taken against just compensation. Such compensation shall represent the genuine value of the investments affected, shall include interest at a normal commercial rate until the date of payment and shall, in order to be effective for the claimants, be paid and made transferable, without delay, to the country designated by the claimants concerned and in the currency of the country of which the claimants are nationals or in any freely convertible currency accepted by the claimants.

(emphasis added)

81. Article 9 of the Treaty provides:

Each Contracting Party hereby consents to submit any legal dispute arising between that Contracting Party and a national of the other Contracting Party concerning an investment of that national in the territory of the former Contracting Party to the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes for settlement by conciliation or arbitration under the Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes between States and Nationals of other States, opened for signature at Washington on 18 March 1965, in the event that both Contracting Parties have become Contracting States to the said Convention. In case a Contracting Party is not a Contracting State to the said Convention, the disputes referred to above shall be submitted to the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes under the Rules Governing the Additional Facility for the Administration of Proceedings by the Secretariat of the Centre (Additional Facility Rules). A legal person which is a national of one Contracting Party and which before such a dispute arises is controlled by nationals of the other Contracting Party shall, in accordance with Article 25 (2) (b) of the Convention, for the purpose of the Convention be treated as a national of the other Contracting Party.

5. OTHER MATTERS

5.1. Other Legal Provisions

82. The Respondent argues that, in addition to the BIT, domestic law is relevant to the existence of the Claimants' contractual rights and the legality of the conduct of the foreign investors. Furthermore, there are international norms such as "[t]he United Nations Convention Against Corruption which defines bribery and money laundering as fundamental criminal offenses that undermine the international system of foreign trade."¹¹ It is the contention of the Respondent that the Claimants violated the BIT, the laws of Laos and international norms.
83. According to the Claimant LHN's Reply, the "[BIT] clearly governs this dispute."¹² The United Nations Convention Against Corruption ("UNCAC") "creates obligations only for the state Parties, to develop anti-corruption policies, practices, and task forces. It does not bind or purport to bind the conduct of entities such as the Claimant."¹³ The Claimants also question the Respondent's appeal to international public policy and, in particular, the international standard for the gaming industry based on domestic gaming regulations of just four jurisdictions, none of them applicable to the Claimants' projects in Laos.
84. While the Claimants admit that domestic statutes obviously do determine whether certain alleged acts are legal or illegal for the purposes of domestic law, domestic law does not dictate the consequences for an investor's claims under the Treaty.
85. The Claimants argue that "once an investor has established its investment in conformity with the host state's laws, that investment falls within the scope of the treaty (assuming all of the other jurisdictional hurdles have been cleared), and the investor is prima facie entitled to its protections."¹⁴ The Claimants further argue that the cases that "consider whether allegations of misconduct constitute a proper defence on the merits do not assist Laos because tribunals have required Respondents to demonstrate that the actions taken in breach of the treaty were actually justified by the misconduct.”¹⁵

86. The Claimants also dispute the relevance of the “uncontroversial proposition that arbitral tribunals have an inherent power to preserve the integrity of their own process ...”¹⁶ The Claimants equally reject the applicability of the “unclean hands” doctrine and note that the Respondent has not cited any case in which a tribunal has sanctioned post-investment behavior with a full dismissal of the claimant’s case.

5.2. Tribunal’s Analysis

87. The law to be applied by the Tribunal is determined by the Treaty. The Treaty is an international instrument that to the extent it requires interpretation will be interpreted by the Tribunal in accordance with the provisions of the Vienna Convention on the Law of the Treaties (“VCLT”) to which both State parties to the Treaty have acceded. As the Parties admit in their exchanges, the domestic law of the State may also be relevant. The extent of its relevance is a matter of dispute between the Parties, particularly on the question of whether to be protected an investment needs to be made and operated according to the law of the host State. This issue and the disputed applicability of international policy relate to the defence of illegal conduct and the Tribunal will address both matters as needed in its consideration of the Respondent’s defence.

5.3. Clarification on the Nature of the Respondent’s Illegality Claims

88. As part of its defence, the Respondent has pleaded that the Tribunal should dismiss all claims because of the illegal activities in which the Claimants allegedly engaged, including bribery, embezzlement and money laundering. The Claimants have at times characterized ¹⁵ Ibid., para. 249.

¹⁶ Ibid., para. 252.

this defence as a “request for dismissal ... for lack of jurisdiction” because at inception or in its operation the investment of the Claimants was illegal.¹⁷

89. As the Tribunal understands it, the present submission of the Respondent to dismiss all claims on grounds of illegality is not an objection to the Tribunal’s jurisdiction, but an affirmation of the Tribunal’s jurisdiction to consider the claims on their merits which, the Government says, ought to be dismissed because of the Claimants’ illegal conduct.

6. THE RESPONDENT’S THRESHOLD POSITION IS THAT THE CLAIMS OUGHT NOT TO BE ENTERTAINED BY REASON OF THE CLAIMANTS’ BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

90. At the threshold of its argument, the Respondent contends that the claims should be dismissed in their entirety, in part because of corruption in the creation of the investments, and in part because of corruption in the course of performance of the various PDAs and unsuccessful initiatives by the Claimants to obtain licences for new gambling facilities.

91. The Respondent alleges that the principals behind the Claimants, Mr. John Baldwin and Mr. Sean Scott, were quite brazen about how to do business in a culture of corruption. However, Mr. Baldwin says, they steadfastly resisted. In this respect, Mr. Baldwin testified that:

Laos can be quite a corrupt country ... As I met fellow businessmen in Laos, I came to realize that almost every major business operating in Laos has paid money under the table for their concessions, or their flat tax agreements or other Government approvals. Sanum, however, has not.¹⁸

92. In his re-examination at the Hearing, Mr. John Baldwin made an even more emphatic denial of corrupt activities: “I gave strict instructions always that we weren’t paying any bribes.”¹⁹

¹⁷ Claimant’s Reply, para. 13.

¹⁸ John Baldwin Sixth Witness Statement (ICSID), dated 9 May 2014, para. 5.

¹⁹ Mr. Baldwin testified as follows in re-examination by his counsel:

93. The allegations of bribery in the course of making the initial investment include:
- (a) an alleged bribe of US $30,000 to Laotian tax authorities to obtain approval of the original 2009 Flat Tax Agreement which the Claimants regarded as essential to their investment in their flagship Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino project;
 - (b) payment of US $25,000 to Government officials to procure a licence for the Claimants' proposed Thakhaek Slot Club and Welcome Centre.²⁰
94. The allegations of bribery in the course of performance of the PDAs and related initiatives include:
- (a) payment of US $875,000 to the Claimants' consultant in the Laos private sector, Madam Sengkeo Phimmasone, to bribe Government officials to stop an audit by Ernst & Young ("E&Y") of Savan Vegas in order to avoid disclosure of the Claimants' illegal activity²¹ and witness tampering (Madam Sengkeo Phimmasone refused to make herself available to testify in these proceedings. The Respondent alleges she was paid by the Claimants to stay away);
 - (b) payment of bribes totalling US $ 21,000 in 2012 to Government officials in an effort to obtain an extension of the 2009 Flax Tax Agreement;²²

Q. Mr. Branson asked you a number of questions about the contracts, the consulting contracts, that Mr. Bouker had that Marty Gersten had written up and you said you hadn't seen them, but now that you've seen them, do they cause you to believe that Mr. Bouker was being dispatched to go and bribe people?

A. No.

Q. And why is that?

A. Well, first and foremost, I gave strict instructions always that we weren't paying any bribes. That's number one. I just don't do it and I'm a stubborn guy and I just don't – I tell my staff the same thing always, you know, it's a slippery slope and you can't start down it, so that's number one. But number two is, you know, fair value [in terms of a success fee] for result for work given. I mean, if he [Mr. Bowker] has the contacts to do this, more power to him. (emphasis added)

- (c) offer of a US $7 million bribe to the Prime Minister of Laos for approval of a licence to establish a casino in the capital city of Vientiane;²³
 - (d) a bribe of US $80,000 to the Governor of the Province of Champasak to approve a slot club at Chong Mek;²⁴
 - (e) bribes totalling US $106,000 to Government officials to close the Paksan Slot Club as a way of bringing pressure on ST Holdings to settle their differences;²⁵
 - (f) a claim (now abandoned) of payment of unspecified amounts of bribes to Government officials stationed at Savan Vegas to turn a blind eye to unlawful gambling by Lao citizens;²⁶
 - (g) an allegation (now abandoned) of payment of unspecified amounts to Thai border officials to facilitate Thai gamblers crossing into Laos to gamble and return unhindered with their winnings;²⁷ and
 - (h) additional allegations (now abandoned) that the Claimants engaged in money laundering and embezzled funds from Savan Vegas by use of phoney loans.²⁸
95. In addition, the Respondent alleges that the Claimants paid US $120,000 to Cambodian officials for a Cambodian lottery licence, bribed Cambodian officials to obtain Cambodian diplomatic passports and bribed Cambodian customs officials to ignore unlawful border crossings. These allegations were designed to demonstrate that the principals of the Claimants are “bad people” with a predisposition to use bribery and corruption to advance their financial interests. The facts underlying the Cambodian allegations are so far removed from the allegations of corruption in Laos, that the allegations relating to Cambodia are irrelevant and will not be considered further.

6.1. Evidence of Bribery and Corruption is Relevant in Respect of Criminality Both at the Time of Investment and During Subsequent Performance

96. The Parties agree that investment tribunals are rightly sensitive to allegations of corruption. They agree that the Respondent bears the burden of proof. They disagree on the standard of proof, i.e. whether a balance of probabilities is sufficient or whether corruption must be established to the more demanding standard of “clear and convincing evidence” of corruption. They also, of course, disagree on the facts.
97. There is no doubt that bribery and corruption are contrary to the domestic laws of Laos.²⁹

6.1.1. The Respondent’s Argument

98. The Respondent asserts that the Claimants are not legally entitled to maintain any of their claims in these proceedings as a matter of ordre public international and public policy.³⁰ Corruption, the Respondent argues, is relevant to the initial investment but also to the investor’s subsequent conduct in relation to the investment in the host country.³¹

Article 157:

Any person bribing or agreeing to bribe a civil servant shall be punished by six months to two years of imprisonment and a fine equal to the amount or value of the bribe.

In the event of a substantial bribe, the bribed civil servant, the briber and the person who agrees to give the bribe shall be punished by three to five years of imprisonment and fines equal to twice the amount or value of the bribe.

Bribe intermediaries shall be punished by six months to two years of imprisonment and fines equal to the amount or value of the bribe.

31. The approach to bribery is different in investment arbitrations, where jurisdiction does not derive from a contract, but rather from an investment treaty. In these cases, validity of contracts is not the question. The

99. The difference is that corruption in the making of the investment will raise issues of jurisdiction for the Tribunal, whereas subsequent acts of corruption will go to a claimant's entitlement for relief under the BIT.³²
100. In particular, the Respondent relies on the analysis in Metal-Tech v. Uzbekistan:

While reaching the conclusion that the claims are barred as a result of corruption, the Tribunal is sensitive to the ongoing debate that findings on corruption often come down heavily on claimants, while possibly exonerating defendants that may have themselves been involved in the corrupt acts. It is true that the outcome in cases of corruption often appears unsatisfactory because, at first sight at least, it seems to give an unfair advantage to the defendant party. The idea, however, is not to punish one party at the cost of the other, but rather to ensure the promotion of the rule of law, which entails that a court or tribunal cannot grant assistance to a party that has engaged in a corrupt act.³³ (emphasis added)

101. The Respondent also relies, more generally, on the doctrine of “clean hands”. The Claimants’ misconduct is sufficient, it is said, to deny them the assistance of investor-state arbitration.

6.1.2. The Claimant’s Argument

102. The Claimants point out that the Tribunal’s jurisdiction is founded on the BIT and neither the Netherlands nor the Chinese BIT contains a provision authorizing a tribunal to deny the treaty’s protection on the basis that the claimant/investor engaged in corruption. If the BITs provide no authority to dismiss, the Tribunal would have to base its decision on customary international law. However, the lack of “clean hands” is neither a recognized issue is whether an investor who has incurred in corrupt practices when making or performing the investment can still enjoy protection under the relevant investment treaty. And the answer is no. (38) Investment arbitration has initiated and led the movement of zero tolerance towards corruption.

³² Fraport AG Frankfurt Airport Services Worldwide v. Republic of the Philippines, ICSID Case No. ARB/03/25, at para. 345, LHRA-29:

If, at the time of the initiation of the investment, there has been compliance with the law of the host state, allegations by the host state of violations of its law in the course of the investment, as a justification for state action with respect to the investment, might be a defence to claimed substantive violations of the BIT, but could not deprive a tribunal acting under the authority of the BIT of its jurisdiction. (emphasis added)

rule of customary international law nor a general principle of international law and thus affords no authority to dismiss.³⁴

103. The Claimants acknowledge that corruption in the establishment of an investment can render a claim inadmissible because treaty protections are only available for valid investments recognized under the treaty (based upon either an explicit or implied legality requirement).³⁵ The Claimants deny corruption but in any event deny any causal connection between the acts of alleged corruption and these claims. The Respondent only concocted its corruption allegations after the arbitrations were commenced and in any event has failed to govern itself in a manner consistent with its international obligations, including due process and good faith, and the prosecution of bribe-takers as well as alleged bribe-givers.³⁶
104. The Claimants' principal, Mr. John Baldwin, denied the applicability of the "red flags" approach to the investments in issue here:

Q. Is it possible that when you enter into a consulting contract like this, that if the event is achieved, the consultant is sent the money and the consultant then is instructed to pay it to certain government ministers so that it keeps the company one step removed from proof of the bribe? Isn't that how it works, Mr. Baldwin?

A. That's a possibility, although it didn't happen here.³⁷

6.1.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

105. The Tribunal considers that proof of corruption at any stage of the investment may be relevant depending on the circumstances. While the UNCAC applies to States rather than private parties, it embodies what has become a principle of customary international law

³⁴ Citing Yukos Universal Limited (Isle of Man) v. The Russian Federation, UNCITRAL PCA Case No. AA 227, Award, 18 July 2014, at paras. 1362-1363, CLA(B)-395.

applicable, according to the OECD, to root out corruption used “to obtain or retain business or other undue advantage in relation to the conduct of international business.”³⁸

106. The Respondent also relies on a generalized doctrine of “clean hands” which is a metaphor employed as a defence to equitable relief in common law jurisdictions. Incorporation of such a general doctrine into investor-State law without careful boundaries would risk opening investment disputes to an open-ended, vague and ultimately unmanageable principle. However, putting aside the label, serious financial misconduct by the Claimants incompatible with their good faith obligations as investors in the host country (such as criminality in defrauding the host Government in respect of an investment) is not without Treaty consequences, both in relation to their attempt to rely on the guarantee of fair and equitable treatment, as well as their entitlement to relief of any kind from an international tribunal.

6.2. The Applicable Standard of Proof

6.2.1. The Respondent’s Argument

107. The Respondent notes that many international tribunals have recognized the difficulty of “proving” bribery and corruption. In the nature of things, the parties to such transactions are generally careful to leave no paper trail or other direct or documentary evidence. As a result, if corruption is to be combatted effectively, it is necessary to rely on inferences from circumstantial evidence. A reasonable approach is to identify “red flags” which, if

Each Party shall take such measures as may be necessary to establish that it is a criminal offence under its law for any person intentionally to offer, promise or give any undue pecuniary or other advantage, whether directly or through intermediaries, to a foreign public official, for that official or for a third party, in order that the official act or refrain from acting in relation to the performance of official duties, in order to obtain or retain business or other improper advantage in the conduct of international business. established, require the alleged perpetrators to provide an exculpatory explanation of otherwise suspicious conduct. In Metal-Tech v. Uzbekistan,³⁹ for example, the tribunal considered probative of corruption the Government’s evidence of substantial payments to a consultant where:

- (a) the consultant lacks experience in the sector,
- (b) the consultant is not a resident of the country where the project is located;
- (c) the consultant has no significant business presence or experience within the country;
- (d) the consultant requests “urgent” payments and/or unusually high commissions;
- (e) the consultant requests payments be made in cash, be made in a third country, to a numbered bank account, or to some other person or entity than the one with whom the agreement was signed;
- (f) the consultant has a close personal/professional relationship to the Government that could improperly influence the decision.⁴⁰

6.2.2. The Claimant’s Argument

108. The Claimants contend that the applicable standard of proof of corruption in international law is “clear and convincing evidence” which must consist of “substantial facts” not mere “inferences”.⁴¹ Relevance is placed on Waguih Elie George Siag and Clorinda Vecchi v.

³⁹ Metal-Tech v. Uzbekistan, Exhibit LHRA-157, at para. 293. See also ICC Dossier Addressing Issues of Corruption in Commercial and Investment Arbitration, Chapter 5, Exhibit LHRA-160.

... It is not sufficient to present evidence which could possibly indicate that there might have been or even probably was corruption. Rather Claimants have to prove corruption...[T]he issue is not one of inference, and the Tribunal considers that Claimants have not met their burden of proof in this regard.

The Arab Republic of Egypt, where the tribunal held that “the applicable standard of proof is greater than the balance of probabilities but less than beyond a reasonable doubt.” The term favoured by the Claimants is “clear and convincing evidence.”⁴²

6.2.3. The Tribunal’s Ruling

109. The Tribunal acknowledges the difficulty of proving corruption as well as the importance of exposing corruption where it exists. In the nature of the offence, the person offering the bribe and the person accepting it will take care to cover their tracks. Nevertheless, given the seriousness of the charge, and the severity of the consequences to the individuals concerned, procedural fairness requires that there be proof rather than conjecture. The standard of “probabilities” requires the trier of fact to stand back and make an overall assessment. The requirement of “clear and convincing” evidence puts the focus more closely on the building blocks of the evidence to ensure a rigorous testing.
110. In the Tribunal’s view there need not be “clear and convincing evidence” of every element of every allegation of corruption, but such “clear and convincing evidence” as exists must point clearly to corruption. An assessment must therefore be made of which elements of the alleged act of corruption have been established by clear and convincing evidence, and which elements are left to reasonable inference, and on the whole whether the alleged act of corruption is established to a standard higher than the balance of probabilities but less than the criminal standard of beyond reasonable doubt, although of course proof beyond a reasonable doubt would be conclusive. This approach reflects the general proposition that the graver the charge, the more confidence there must be in the evidence relied on.⁴³

6.3. Failure of the Respondent to Investigate and Prosecute Persons who Allegedly Accepted Bribes

111. As the Claimants point out, the Respondent has brought no prosecutions against any Government official said to be on the receiving end of the bribes. Nor is there before the Tribunal any evidence of a serious criminal investigation of anyone other than the principals of the Claimant, Mr. John Baldwin and Mr. Sean Scott.
112. Conviction of its own officials would not estop the Government from pursuing the Claimants as bribe-givers. However, in this case, the Tribunal finds it disturbing that no prosecutions have been brought against any persons alleged to have accepted bribes, nor has there been evidence of due diligence in any investigation. These omissions are relevant to the credibility of the Government's allegations, as will be seen.

6.3.1. First Allegation – Bribes to Obtain the 2009 Flat Tax Agreement

6.3.1.1. The Respondent's Argument

113. The Claimants have repeatedly acknowledged that the Flat Tax Agreement (“FTA”)⁴⁴ was essential to the economic profitability of Savan Vegas. Mr. John Baldwin testified in Singapore that the Claimants would not have built the casino without an FTA:

Q. And would you have built the Savan Vegas casino for $25 million, $30 million if that was the tax you had to pay, if the government refused to give you a flat tax agreement?

A. No.⁴⁵

114. It is alleged that to obtain the original 2009 FTA, a bribe of US $30,000 was paid to Ms. Manivone or Mr. Khamphai, senior officials with the Government tax department, through the Claimants' intermediary or consultant, Madam Sengkeo.

⁴⁴ Flat Tax Agreement between Laos and Savan Vegas, dated 21 September 2009, Exhibit C(B)-007.

⁴⁵ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2008, p. 89, 12-16.

115. The FTA was of great value to the Claimants as it limited most types of tax to a flat sum of US $745,000 per year regardless of the profits made by the multi-million-dollar casino operation.

116. The chronology is as follows:

DATE	ACTIVITY
29 December 2008	Prime Minister approves FTA in principle
21 September 2009	Flat Tax Agreement signed.
22 September 2009	Internal Sanum e-mail records that Mr. Khamphai requested wire of “agreed payment” to Madam Sengkeo’s account “approved” by Mr. Baldwin. ⁴⁶
24 September 2009	Internal Sanum e-mail records that the “tax people are requesting [...] $30,000 USD [...] to get the flat tax approval.” ⁴⁷
7 October 2009	Internal Sanum e-mail records that Madam Sengkeo “has provided her daughter’s bank account” information. ⁴⁸
8 October 2009	Internal Sanum e-mail records that Mr. Baldwin instructed the disbursement of funds “by wire” for “service[s] partially rendered”. Amounts of $10,000 and $20,000 were disbursed from the account “by wire”. ⁴⁹

117. According to the Respondent, the sequence of dates, and the use of the daughter’s bank account in lieu of Madam Sengkeo’s own account, raise “red flags”.

118. While the FTA had been agreed to in principle in December 2008, Mr. John Baldwin testified that the deal was not done, because “we needed to get the flat tax agreement reduced into a formal document at that specific time.”⁵⁰ Accordingly, it would have been quite understandable for the payment of a bribe to be delayed until October 2009 when the FTA was signed, as opposed to December 2008 when it was purportedly approved in principle by the Government.

119. In cross-examination, Mr. John Baldwin denied any illegal payment to Madam Sengkeo but according to the Respondent, Mr. Baldwin's explanation that the reference to payment in October 2009 of US $30,000 to the "tax people" meant payment to Madam Sengkeo for her own benefit rather than as a bribe for tax officials is (according to the Respondent) manifestly absurd. In this respect, Mr. John Baldwin testified as follows:

Q. Isn't this a statement to the CFO of Sanum/Savan Vegas to pay a bribe of $30,000 to a tax official in the Ministry of Finance?

A. No.

Q. How do you interpret it? What does it mean?

A. That the $30,000 success fee was supposed to be paid to Madam Sengkeo and her tax people that were with her.

Q. She is "the Tax people"?

A. Yes.

Q. Did she work for the government then?

A. No.

Q. She didn't? She's not an employee of the Ministry of Finance?

A. No.⁵¹

A. I believe – I – I don't know specifically, but I believe that we needed to get the flat tax agreement reduced into a formal document at that specific time, but Madam Sengkeo's engagement went back nearly a year, is my recollection, and that she helped, through that whole period, to get the flat tax agreement.

Q. What was the agreement? Why was she getting 30,000? Why not 50,000?

A. Well, she agreed to take $30,000.

Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p.69, 16-25 to 70, 1-3.

⁵¹ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 66, 1-15.

120. The Respondent adds that the US $30,000 may have gone to Madam Sengkeo in the first instance, but in the Respondent's view, the coincidence of timing with Sanum's apparent need to ingratiate itself with Government officials is fatal to Mr. Baldwin's credibility.

6.3.1.2. The Claimant's Argument

121. The Claimants contend that payment of US $30,000 to Madam Sengkeo was a "success fee" for obtaining the FTA where previous intermediaries had failed.⁵² Mr. Baldwin strongly denied any impropriety:

Q. Down at the bottom of the page it says:

"Dear Billy and Team, Mr Khamphai of the Tax Department and Mdm Sengkeo had just informed us that Joe had picked up the flat tax document at his office [meaning Mr Khamphai's] since 9AM this morning...

However, he has asked us to wire the agreed payment to Madam Sengkeo's account as followed..."

And then they give the account number. So isn't this interesting, that the day that the flat tax agreement is delivered to your employee, he asked that $30,000 is wired that day?

A. Well, my reading of this is that "he" is Joe.

Q. And who is he saying that the money should be paid to?

A. Madam Sengkeo.⁵³ (emphasis added)

⁵² Mr. Baldwin testified in his Second Witness Statement in the SIAC case of 8 June 2015 as follows:

15. The Government alleges that I authorized payments totaling US $30,000 to Madame Sengkeo Phimmasonne, as a bribe to obtain the flat tax agreement issued on 1 September 2009 for Savan Vegas. This too is false. The payments represented a success fee to Madam Sengkeo for her efforts to help Savan Vegas negotiate a Flat Tax Agreement with the Lao Government – a project on which she had worked since at least July 2008.

16. Initially, it was the ST Group – then our local partner in Laos – that was responsible for obtaining a flat tax agreement for Savan Vegas. However, it failed to do so, thus by mid-2008, we took it upon ourselves to negotiate such an agreement with the Lao Government. In order to have local Lao expertise to assist us, Savan Vegas offered a success fee to Madam Sengkeo to lobby for a satisfactory Flat Tax Agreement for Savan Vegas. Madam Sengkeo was a partner of ST, which is how I came to know her. I discovered that she had many high-level connections in the Lao Government. This made her a natural choice for this consulting engagement. (emphasis added)

John Baldwin Second Witness Statement, 8 June 2015, paras. 15-16, Exhibit LHRE-159.

⁵³ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 67, 2-18.

122. Mr. John Baldwin testified that there was no reason to bribe any Government employee in September 2009 as the Prime Minister had already agreed to a flat tax agreement in December 2008.⁵⁴

6.3.1.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

123. The Respondent's case is speculative rather than substantial. Madam Sengkeo was in the consulting business. Consultants are paid. While the Claimants never produced a "consulting agreement" with Madam Sengkeo, the evidence is that it is not unusual for consultants to insist on a success fee as part of their remuneration. The effort to obtain an FTA was successful. It was likely worth millions of dollars to the Claimants in reduced taxes. In that context, payment of US $30,000 in 2009 is not a disproportionate "success fee". Moreover, no one was prosecuted in this affair. Even if Madam Sengkeo did not cooperate with the Government, why was her daughter (the owner of the bank account) not investigated? What is the daughter's explanation? The evidence of corruption in this instance is neither clear nor convincing. The bribery allegation in connection with the FTA is not established to the necessary standard for such a serious charge.

6.3.2. Second Allegation – Bribes to Extend the Flat Tax Agreement After Expiry of the 5-Year Term

6.3.2.1. The Respondent's Argument

124. On 18 March 2011, Savan Vegas submitted its proposal to extend the FTA, which was due to expire on 31 December 2014. Six days later, on 24 March 2011, the Claimants paid US $21,000 to Mr. Bouker Noutharath, a retired hospital worker from Olympia, Washington State, United States of America, who had returned to live in Laos. He had no

⁵⁴ Mr. Baldwin testified:

Q. Would there be any reason to have to bribe anyone when the Prime Minister had already approved your flat tax?

A. You know, there's no reason to and, plus, obviously, the Prime Minister's office was watching this. The local tax people were watching this, the finance department's watching this. This was a significant project and lots of people were watching it and there's no way. You just wouldn't – couldn't happen.

experience as a “consultant” but had good contacts within the Government. On 4 March 2011, he was retained by Savan Vegas⁵⁵ as a consultant to lobby in favour of an extension of the FTA. Mr. Baldwin says Mr. Bouker was promised a success fee substantially in excess of US $21,000, but Mr. Bouker, who agreed to cooperate with the Government, testified that:

I have seen the entry in the general ledger that I was sent $21,000 on March 24, 2011. The entry says “prof fee re flat tax acceptance – Brian Nonthavet.” RE-131. I remember that Sanum was concerned about extending a flat tax agreement, but I was not involved in that issue. I was sent the $21,000 to deliver it to a government person. I remember it was Mr. Paoa [of Savan Vegas] who asked me to make this payment about the tax issue but I cannot remember the name of the Government person who I gave this payment too.⁵⁶ (emphasis added)

* * * * *

These contracts are for fraud reasons. They were drafted and sent to me by lawyer Martin Gersten...They were to provide a cover for the bribes Sanum intended to pay to have the Government extend the Flat Tax Agreement and to obtain the Thakhaek slot club licence.⁵⁷

125. The Respondent believes the unidentified “Government Person” was Ms. Manivone but Mr. Baldwin testified he was “sure” this was not so:

Q. Do you know that at the time you were negotiating with Madam Manivone in the tax department of the Ministry of Finance?

A. Well, we were – negotiated with Madam Manivone from 2007 clear through, you know, into 2012.

* * * * *

Q. Isn’t it true that Mr Paoa asked Bouker to deliver $21,000 [in 2012] to Ms Manivone in the tax department to help in negotiations for the flat tax agreement?

A. I don’t think so.

⁵⁷ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 90, 20-25.

Q. But you're not sure?

A. I'm sure...⁵⁸

6.3.2.2. The Claimant's Argument

126. Mr. Bouker received a legitimate consulting mandate. By e-mail dated 21 March 2011, he requested US $21,000 as "an advance". His bank records do not show a withdrawal of US $21,000 but withdrawals of three different amounts on 28 March (US $9,500 cash), 30 March (US $9,000 to his son) and 4 April (US $2,135 cash). Mr. Bouker is a dissatisfied former employee whose testimony is not credible.

6.3.2.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

127. There are inconsistencies in Mr. Bouker's evidence and it is significant that he can remember nothing about (or is otherwise unwilling to identify) "the Government Person" to whom he said he handed US $21,000. There are too many loose ends to his story. There is no evidence that Madam Manivone (the presumed recipient) or anyone else was prosecuted. In the Tribunal's view, the Respondent's evidence does not establish by clear and convincing evidence that a US $21,000 bribe was offered by Mr. Bouker to any Government official as alleged.

6.3.3. Third Allegation – The Claimants Paid US $500,000 in Bribes in 2012 to (i) Shut Down the E&Y Audit of Savan Vegas and (ii) to Cause the Government to Shut Down the Thanaleng Slot Club to the Disadvantage of ST Holdings

128. On 8 July 2012, Mr. Baldwin wired Sanum's Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Clay Crawford, that "Savan has an extraordinary expense of $500,000 this week. I've tell you about it when we speak on the phone, but please think about our cash situation."⁵⁹

⁵⁹ E-mail from Mr. John Baldwin to Clay Crawford, 8 July 2012, Exhibit LHRE-154.

129. Mr. Baldwin accepts that the sum of US $500,000 was subsequently sent to Vientiane including US $300,000 cash in a backpack delivered to Madam Sengkeo by his personal assistant, Bruce Douglas.⁶⁰

6.3.3.1. The E&Y Audit

130. Mr. Baldwin acknowledges ordering Mr. Douglas, to fly to Vientiane with US $300,000 cash. It is established that US $300,000 was subsequently deposited in Madam Sengkeo's bank account. She subsequently deposited US $30,000 in her bank account in New York.
131. The Respondent's allegation is that the balance of US $270,000 was paid by Madam Sengkeo to Government officials to stop the E&Y audit of the Savan Vegas which Mr. Baldwin considered part of a Government move to get rid of Sanum and take over the Claimants' gambling assets without compensation.⁶¹

A. In a backpack.

Q. You have USD 500,000 going into Vientiane in a two-day period in cash?

A. Yes.

⁶¹ John Baldwin testified in his Third Witness Statement, 22 July 2013, at para. 5:

...“Even those few Government officials who will still speak with me have admitted that we have been the target of a deliberate campaign to strip Sanum of its investments in Laos. The objective of these efforts appears to be to leave the successful businesses, in which we invested so much and which we spent years developing, in the hands of our local commercial partner, the ST Group...and the senior Lao Government officials who have intimate business and familial connections with ST.”

6.3.3.1.1. The Respondent's Argument

132. The Respondent points out that the alleged “loan” to Madam Sengkeo was undocumented.⁶² Only US $15,000 has been repaid.⁶³ Mr. Baldwin acknowledges that Madam Sengkeo has not been asked by the Claimants to repay the balance. The US $30,000 deposit in New York was 10% of the US $300,000 transfer. Madam Sengkeo was a “ten percenter”, and her receipt of US $30,000 indicates that bribes of US $270,000 were paid.
133. The bribe succeeded, according to the Respondent. On 12 July 2012, Ernst & Young was ordered by unidentified Government officials to stop work on its audit of Savan Vegas.⁶⁴ The E&Y audit would have disclosed the Claimants' illegal activities (subsequently

A. No, there are not.

Q. Has she ever repaid it?

A. She – she paid me 500,000 Thai baht.

Q. That's US $15,000?

A. US $15,000.

Q. Do you have any record of that payment?

A. I think so – yeah, I do.

Q. Have you ever produced it? You have been asked....

* * * * *

Q. Okay. But the other – let's assume she gave you US $15,000. The other 285,000 that you lent her in 2012 has not been repaid?

A. It has not been repaid.

Q. And we're now in 2018?

A. Yes.

⁶⁴ Letter from Ernst & Young to the Ministry of Finance, Exhibit LHRE-53:

In relation to our final report, we also feel it necessary to remind the Inspection Committee that, since we were instructed by your goodself on 10 July 2012 to cease our fieldwork at Savan Vegas Hotel & Casino (SVC) and to refrain from receiving any additional information and/or documents from SVC on the same day, our final report will only contain our preliminary findings and/or observations for the work performed on documents and information received by us from SVC up till and including 10 July 2012.

uncovered by a BDO audit after the Government ousted the Claimants from the casino) including (the Government alleges) embezzlement and money laundering.

6.3.3.1.2. The Claimant's Argument

134. The Claimants say the US $300,000 was a “loan” to Madam Sengkeo. The New York deposits are unrelated. Madam Sengkeo was closely involved with ST Holdings. There had been a falling out. She thus had an “urgency” for funds when ST Holdings malevolently cut off Madam Sengkeo’s regular source of income.⁶⁵ Mr. Baldwin was a loyal friend.

6.3.3.1.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

135. Mr. Baldwin’s explanation of the US $300,000 payment to Madam Sengkeo is not credible. It is clear on the evidence that Mr. Baldwin and his CFO, Mr. Clay Crawford, were concerned about the threat to Sanum’s business posed by the E&Y audit. Mr. Baldwin had every incentive to influence the Government to call off the E&Y audit in the summer of 2012. It is simply not plausible, as the Claimants argue, that the E&Y audit was stopped because Government officials had concluded that E&Y had failed to find incriminating evidence. If that were true, the obvious instructions from the Government to E&Y would have been to keep digging not to give up and down tools.
136. On the other hand, the Claimants had a powerful motive to stop the audit as Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Crawford knew (and the Government merely suspected) of the existence of financial skeletons in the Savan Vegas books later uncovered by the BDO audit. All in all, the Tribunal concludes that the Claimants got a senior Government official to stop the audit

⁶⁵ Transcript, 16 June 2015 Hearing, SIAC Case No. ARB/143/14/MV, p. 207208, Exhibit LHRE-160/SRE-160:

Q. What was going on in Vientiane in July 2012 that you needed all that cash there except the Thanaleng case was happening about 10 days later and the E&Y audit was terminated the day before. Those are the two events that I can think of that related to Savan Vegas, what can you think of?

A. ST had cut Madame Sengkeo off from any income from their investments, because she had helped us over him, he had cut her off from any money and she lives primarily on money from him. She needed money to pay bills on the hotel she was building. The USD $300,000 is a loan to her. (emphasis added) and that the $270,000 was paid through Madam Sengkeo (i.e. $300,000 less 10%) to that Government person or persons.

137. That said, the Tribunal is troubled by the fact that the Government has apparently not identified any bribe-takers. The order to E&Y to stop the audit came as a surprise to E&Y and must have been issued by a senior Government source, otherwise the audit would have continued. The Respondent does not suggest that E&Y took the bribe but E&Y must know who gave its auditors the order to stop work. The evidentiary trail could then have been followed up the chain of command from the Government person who gave the order to identify the person who authorized the order, who could then have been required to provide the Government (and subsequently the Tribunal) with an explanation for the stop work order.
138. The Respondent has not offered any explanation for this gap in the evidence. In the circumstances, while the evidence of Mr. Baldwin that Madam Sengkeo required the funds for her personal use is deeply unsatisfactory, so too is the Government's apparent failure even to attempt (so far the evidence is concerned) to get to the bottom of the matter, not only potentially to punish the wrongdoers, but to provide solid evidence that a bribe was given and taken by Government official(s) to stop the E&Y audit.
139. The Tribunal concludes that it is more probable than not that Madam Sengkeo was used as a conduit to bribe Government officials to stop the E&Y audit, but that this conclusion is not established to the higher standard of "clear and convincing evidence". The Tribunal is satisfied, however, on the lesser standard of probabilities, that Mr. Baldwin involved the Claimants in serious financial illegalities in respect of the halt of the E&Y audit.

6.3.3.2. Payment of About US $200,000 in Bribes to Shut Down the Thanaleng Slot Club

140. In 2012, the Claimants were experiencing tense relations with their then Laotian partner, ST Holdings. In part, the tensions related to a profitable slot club at Thanaleng, which ST Holdings agreed to joint venture with Sanum. The joint venture was to commence at a future date awaiting the expiry of an earlier arrangement ST Holdings had contracted with a different slot machine supplier. However, when the date for the change-over arrived, ST Holdings refused to proceed with its deal with Sanum.

141. Mr. Baldwin is alleged to have then paid bribes to Government officials through a “consultant”, Mr. Anousith Thepsimuong, in an effort to shut down the Thanaleng Slot Club as a pressure tactic to force ST Holdings to negotiate a solution rather than continue with litigation (which the Claimants ultimately lost in the Laotian Courts).

6.3.3.2.1. The Respondent’s Argument

142. On 28 July 2012, during the corporate struggle over the Thanaleng Slot Club, the Claimants attempted to obtain leverage over ST Holdings by bribing Government Ministries to shut down the Club. The money was channelled through Mr. Anousith. The sum of US $190,000 was deposited in Mr. Anousith’s bank account on 11 July 2012 and a cash withdrawal of US $100,000 was made the following day.⁶⁶
143. Mr. Baldwin testified that Mr. Anousith was paid to lobby “the National Assembly” but this explanation is not credible. The National Assembly has no executive function. Only a Government Minister would have operational authority to issue a stop order against the Thanaleng Slot Club.
144. Mr. Baldwin acknowledged that he could not explain how or why the National Assembly would get involved in such an executive action:

Q. You say that the National Assembly is going to suspend a licence, but did he [the Deputy Prime Minister] ever explain or did you ever find out how the National Assembly would actually do that?

A. No.⁶⁷

⁶⁶ Extract of ANZ Bank Statement for Mr. Anousith Thepsimoung, Exhibit LHRE-153.

⁶⁷ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, at p. 9,23-25 to p. 10, 1-4.

6.3.3.2.2. The Claimant's Argument

145. Mr. John Baldwin readily admits that in July 2012 he was doing what was possible to get the Government to close the Thangaleng Slot Club,⁶⁸ including by a written submission to the country's President. The Claimants say there is no reason to disbelieve Mr. Baldwin's evidence that he was told by the Deputy Prime Minister to lobby the country's National Assembly.⁶⁹

146. Mr. Baldwin denied that money was intended for a Government Minister:

Q. See, that brings us back to July and this $500,000 pot of money that we have sitting in Vientiane in Madam Sengkeo's bank account – her son-in-law's bank account. Isn't it true that that money was there to stop the court case from having a judgment – the money was there so you could get the slot club shut down and negotiate with Mr Sithat?

A. The money was specifically earmarked to do lobbying with the National Assembly.

Q. Well, we just established that you have a good friend who is the fourth most powerful person in the country. Wasn't the money for him to shut down the club so you could stop the court decision?

⁶⁸ Mr. Baldwin testified that he wrote to President Choummaly Sayasone requesting the Government to shut down the Thangaleng Slot Club:

“Sanum asks that the Government suspend that the slot machine licence at the Vientiane Friendship Bridge. We believe that a temporary suspension will encourage the parties to negotiate and come to terms so they can work together. Once the parties have reached an agreement, formed a joint venture that is approved by the relevant ministries, and determine that they can operate the Vientiane...Bridge Slot Club together, the licence would be reinstated. Until then, Sanum requests your assistance in suspending the licence and allowing time and space to work [together] towards peace with [the] ST Group.” Correct? So, as I said, you were trying to get a space to negotiate your way out of this trouble with ST.

A. Yes.

Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 7, 19-25 to p. 8, 1-11.

⁶⁹ In re-examination, Mr. Baldwin testified about the National Assembly as follows:

MS DEITSCH-PEREZ: You spoke with Mr Branson about the Thanaleng lobbying. Can you tell us where you first got the idea to lobby the assembly with respect to Thanaleng?

A. Yeah. I was having breakfast with Deputy Prime Minister Somsavath – we were having oatmeal – and he – I said I got – I have to get – make peace with Sithat somehow and I – how do we do it and he said, you know, it's a tough row, because, you know, he's joined at the hip with Bounnhang – you know, with vice-president Vorachith, Bounnhang Vorachith, and he said I – there's not very many people that are going to be able to help you with this, you've got to make peace with Sithat and Vorachith, so I said, “Well, who can help me do that?”, and he said, “Well, two places – the politburo and the National Assembly”, and he said the politburo, “That's difficult, so I would suggest that you reach out to the National Assembly.”

Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 171, 3-22.

A. No.⁷⁰ (emphasis added)

147. The Claimants argue that there is no evidence that Mr. Anousith paid money to any Government official. He received fees as a consultant to lobby the National Assembly to shut down the Thanaleng Slot Club. He was entitled to spend that money as he wished. Laos is a cash economy. Payment of large amounts of cash in respect of legitimate transactions is not unusual.⁷¹ Cash does not signal illegality.

6.3.3.2.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

148. Once again, the payment to Mr. Anousith is deeply suspicious. There is no documentation of any consultancy. There is no explanation of the work for which almost $200,000 were paid to him and deposited in his personal bank account. The mandate to lobby the “National Assembly” seems far-fetched. Moreover, despite the alleged payment of bribes, the Thanaleng Slot Club was not shut down. In the circumstances, the Tribunal is unable to find “clear and convincing evidence” that a bribe was made or even offered through Mr. Anousith. However, on the lower “probabilities” standard, the Tribunal concludes that it is more likely than not that a bribe was paid to an unidentified Government official or officials in an unsuccessful effort to advance the Claimants’ agenda at the Thanaleng Slot Club.

⁷⁰ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 15, 3-18.

⁷¹ Testimony of Mr. John Baldwin, Transcript, 26 January 2017 Hearing, SIAC Case No. ARB/143/14/MV, pp. 12667-12668, Exhibit LHRE-163:

Q. And then the next day, on July the 12th there was a withdrawal of a hundred thousand, correct, in cash?

A. It shows a withdrawal of a hundred thousand.

Q. What did you tell Mr. Anousith to do with that hundred thousand?

A. I didn't tell him to do anything with that money.

Q. I see. Why did you think he took out a hundred thousand of the 193 you just sent him?

A. We paid him a fee, we didn't – it's his money to do with as he wishes.

* * * * *

Q. Was his job to get a government minister to shut down the Thanaleng Slot Club?

A. No.

Q. What was it to do?

A. We had hired, we had hired him to lobby the national assembly to ask them to shut down the Thanaleng slot club. (emphasis added)

6.3.4. Fourth Allegation – The Claimants Arranged for a Further US $575,000 Transfer to Madam Sengkeo to Prevent Her from Testifying in These Proceedings

149. In 2014, when the initial phase of these proceedings was pending, the Government sought to have Madam Sengkeo testify. To that end, she was provided with a written assurance of immunity dated 7 May 2014, if she provided “information and documents related to offering of bribery to government of [sic] official(s) who were performing accounting audit activities at Savan Vegas and Casino Co., Ltd.”⁷²
150. At a pre-hearing conference on 14 May 2014, the Claimants (amongst other matters) applied to the Tribunal to allow Mr. Baldwin to make a “personal loan” to Madam Sengkeo of US $575,000.⁷³ Given the importance and sensitivity of Madam Sengkeo’s evidence potentially to be given at the merits Hearing, the Tribunal declined to give its permission for a US $575,000 loan to her from Mr. Baldwin.
151. The initial Hearing on the merits proceeded in Singapore in June 2014. Madam Sengkeo did not attend to testify for the Government.

⁷² Letter of Immunity from Government’s Anti-Corruption Office dated 07/05/2014, Exhibit LHRE-140:

LETTER OF ASSURANCE

Re: Protection of the rights and best interests of individuals who provide information for anti-corruption purpose

The President of the Government Inspection Committee issues a Letter of Assurance for protection to Ms. Sengkeo Phimmasone, aged 60, a business person, residing at Xangkhon Village, Xaythany District, of Vientiane Capital. The assurance of protection is for her contribution in the anti-corruption efforts by providing information and documents related to offering of bribery to government of official(s) who were performing accounting audit activities at Savan Vegas and Casino Co., Ltd. In accordance with Article 08, Chapter I of the Law on Anti-Corruption, the Government Inspection Committee issues this Letter, and informs the ministries and organizations, provinces and domestic and foreign organizations to acknowledge based on this Letter of Assurance for Ms. Sengkeo Phimmasone, and this Letter serves as legal evidence.

6.3.4.1. The Respondent's Argument

152. Mr. John Baldwin, having been denied the Tribunal's permission, arranged for a third party, Gary Morris,⁷⁴ to make Madam Sengkeo a US $575,000 "loan" which was undocumented and was not in fact a loan,⁷⁵ but an inducement to keep Madam Sengkeo from testifying. There is no evidence that the Claimants' loan of US $300,000 in July 2012

⁷⁴ Testimony of Mr. John Baldwin, Transcript, 16 June 2015 Hearing, SIAC Case No. ARB/143/14/MV, p. 213, Exhibit LHRE-163:

Mr. Branson: Mr. Baldwin, did you ever provide that additional loan guarantee of 575,000 to Ms. Sengkeo?

A. No.

Q. What did you do instead?

A. I asked one of my friends to lend her money on other assets.

Q. Did you guarantee that loan?

A. I did not have to.

Q. Mm?

A. I did not have to.

Q. Why not?

A. The assets that she pledged were of sufficient value that he was content with the loan that was made.

Q. Okay, so you arranged for her to get another loan?

A. Yes.

⁷⁵ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 43, 12-23:

Q. When did Madam Sengkeo ask you for the $575,000?

A. My recollection is perhaps two weeks before the [ICSID] hearing [in May 2014]. (p. 25, 16-18)

* * * * *

Q. I see. So in May 2014, when your counsel asked this tribunal to allow you to pay her or lend – guarantee, rather, $575,000, what did you do after the tribunal refused to bless that?

A. I started asking mutual friends, people that I know, to lend money, if they would lend – make her a loan. (p. 27, 19-25)

* * * * *

Q. And what loan documentation did he get to secure that loan?

A. My understanding, and my recollection, is that there are mortgages – there were mortgages given by Madam Sengkeo on significant pieces of real estate that she owned in Vientiane. (p. 28, 8-13)

* * * * *

Q. – to ask Madam Sengkeo?

A. No.

Q. How about your good friend, Gary Morris, have you asked him to show you any loan documents that he has?

A. No.

Q. So the two people that, supposedly, are your good friends haven't produced any documents to you to produce to the tribunal?

A. No.

Q. Has she paid back the 575 to Mr Morris?

A. I don't know.

or the third party “loan” of US $575,000 of May 2014, being a total of US $875,000 has been repaid except for US $15,000, leaving US $860,000 not accounted for.⁷⁶

6.3.4.2. The Claimant’s Argument

153. Mr. Baldwin had a long-standing business relationship with Madam Sengkeo which, over time, developed into personal friendship. It was perfectly normal for Madam Sengkeo to seek a personal loan and for Mr. Baldwin to arrange it. There is no evidence whatsoever that the loan of US $575,000 or any part thereof was intended by Mr. Baldwin, or understood by Madam Sengkeo, as an inducement not to testify. Madam Sengkeo,⁷⁷ who now lives outside Laos, was being improperly pressured by the Government to give false evidence to support its bribery and corruption case⁷⁸ and it is therefore quite understandable

⁷⁶ Testimony of Mr. John Baldwin, Transcript, 26 January 2017 Hearing, SIAC Case No. ARB/143/14/MV, p. 1392, Exhibit LHRE-163:

Q. Has Ms. Sengkeo paid any of that money back?

A. I don’t know.

Q. It means that, as we sit here today, that you lent her 300,000, Mr. Morris, Mr. McCain’s colleagues lent her 575, that’s $875,000. Has she paid you back?

A. She paid me back 500,000 baht.

Q. That’s 15,000 US?

A. Baht money.

⁷⁷ Mr. Baldwin testified to his friendship as follows:

...but my friendship with Madam Sengkeo is – is - I mean, Madam Sengkeo and I had a great relationship. I mean, it wasn't - she is my friend. I mean, she - we went to many, many, many dinners. I hung out with her family. We – you know, she's my friend. I mean, there was nothing untoward about my business relationships with her.

Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 38, 12-20.

⁷⁸ Mr. John Baldwin testified in re-examination:

Q. What else did you hear from Peep about Madam Sengkeo's situation?

A. Madam Sengkeo has been under – it's been – what I've been told is that Madam Sengkeo has been under a great deal of pressure by the government of Lao to sign documents making allegations that were not true and she has been very worried about the consequences of this on not only just her economic state, her property holdings and even her personal safety –

JUDGE BINNIE: When you say you have been told, who told you?

A. Peep. Peep told me, and the – madam – Peep [Sanum employee] has expressed to me that Madam Sengkeo has expressed to her that she just feels there's an enormous amount of pressure and an enormous amount of personal harm that she is subject to if she doesn't do everything the government asks her to, whether it's true or not. It's there – she says it's been stressed to her it doesn't matter that it's true; she needs to help the government of Lao in their efforts.

Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 161, 4-25.

that she wished to avoid being a witness. Mr. Baldwin’s explanation of the loans to Madam Sengkeo is not rebutted and there is no evidence inconsistent with his version of events.

6.3.4.3. The Tribunal’s Ruling

154. The US $575,000 loan, coming on top of the previous loan of US $300,000, of which only US $15,000 were repaid bristles with “red flags”. Mr. Baldwin clearly intended to sidestep the Tribunal’s denial of permission by arranging for the US $575,000 loan from a third party. Given Madam Sengkeo’s central role in dealings between the Claimants and the Government over many years, her testimony would have shed crucial light on the legality or illegality of many of the disbursements at issue in the Respondent’s allegations.

155. Mr. John Baldwin testified:

Q. So when Mdm Sengkeo withdrew US $80,000 in cash on July 20, the day before you went to visit your good friend, the Deputy Prime Minister, what do you think she was going to do with those US dollars?

A. It was Mdm Sengkeo’s money to do what she wanted. She represented to me that she needed the loan to pay construction bills.⁷⁹ (emphasis added)

156. It cannot be said that the bare payment of US $875,000 to Madam Sengkeo is “clear and convincing evidence” of bribery. There is no evidence to contradict Mr. Baldwin’s evidence of her need for funds. There are other possible explanations for their disbursement.

157. On the whole, however, while the Tribunal is unable to find “clear and convincing evidence” that the money was paid to Madam Sengkeo to bribe Government Ministers, the Tribunal is nevertheless satisfied on the lower standard of balance of probabilities that Mr. Baldwin and Madam Sengkeo were involved in channeling funds illicitly to Lao Government officials, and further that she was paid to secure her loyalty and to avoid her testifying on behalf of the Government, thereby obstructing justice.

⁷⁹ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 23, 4-11.

158. The coincidence of the timing of “loans” of US $875,000 (less one repayment of US $15,000) to Madam Sengkeo and the Claimants’ urgent need for Government intervention on its behalf at critical junctures of its business (the termination of the E&Y audit and the attempt to shut down the Thanaleng Slot Club), together with Madam Sengkeo’s role as the Claimants’ principal go-between with the Government, which Mr. Baldwin describes as a corrupt Government, compels an inference of Mr. Baldwin’s unlawful conduct and through Mr. Baldwin, the culpability and bad faith of both LHNV and Sanum, on whose behalf he acted.
159. The Government’s failure to track down bribe-takers or to provide a convincing explanation of its efforts (even if on occasion unsuccessful) to do so, tells against the Government’s case, although the fact that the key witness, Madam Sengkeo, herself refused to cooperate made the Government’s task more difficult.
160. Possibly the Government prefers to spare itself some embarrassment by declining to put whatever it knows about “bribe-takers” into the record of the Tribunal.
161. Be that as it may be, the circumstances disclosed to the Tribunal do not rise to the level of “clear and compelling evidence” of corruption.
162. However, the Tribunal’s conclusion that corruption of Government officials is established to the lower standard of “balance of probabilities” is relevant to the issue of the Claimants’ good faith and the legitimacy of the Claimants’ alleged “legitimate” expectations of fair and “equitable” treatment. This issue is dealt with below.

6.3.5. Fifth Allegation – Bribery Scheme in June 2015 to Restore Control of Savan Vegas to the Claimants

163. The Respondent seized control of the Savan Vegas and gambling facilities on 15 April 2015. Its right to do so was eventually confirmed by an arbitral tribunal constituted under the SIAC by its Award dated 29 June 2017.⁸⁰
164. Prior to the SIAC Award, however, the Claimants asserted a right under the 2014 Settlement to take back control⁸¹ on the basis they had managed to sell their investments on the open market prior to the 15 April 2015 deadline imposed as a term of the Settlement with the Government. The allegedly genuine third-party offer to purchase dated 14 April 2015 was from an entity called MaxGaming Consulting Services Limited (Macau) (“MaxGaming”).⁸² Its CEO, Mr. Angus Noble, represented in writing that MaxGaming had funds available to complete the transaction and intended to do so.⁸³ In testimony before the SIAC tribunal in January 2017, Angus Noble acknowledged that these representations were false.⁸⁴ He repeated this retraction to this Tribunal at the Hearing. The MaxGaming

⁸³ Letter from Mr. Angus Noble to Mr. John Baldwin and Mr. Shawn Scott dated 29 April 2015, Exhibit LHRE-155:

I have reconfirmed that our funds are available and allocated for this acquisition. My partners in the acquisition are eager to complete the purchase and move forward on their plans for expanding and upgrading the facilities. Q. Is any of that true?

A. No, it is not.

Q. Wasn’t true?

transaction did not proceed and was found by the SIAC tribunal to be a sham.⁸⁵ Having heard Mr. Noble's evidence, this Tribunal also concludes that the 14 April 2015 offer was a sham. Indeed Mr. Noble more or less concedes that it was a sham.

6.3.5.1. The Respondent's Argument

165. The MaxGaming offer was a fraudulent scheme perpetrated by the Claimants in order to regain control of Savan Vegas⁸⁶ from the Government. The Claimants had every interest in pre-empting the Government's seizure of Savan Vegas and putting a halt to the Government's access to the books of Savan Vegas and records targeted by a Government audit into alleged wrongdoing at Savan Vegas including money laundering and embezzlement.

6.3.5.2. The Claimant's Argument

166. While unrealistic, Mr. Noble genuinely believed he could orchestrate the purchase, which he testified was, for him, "the chance of a lifetime."

6.3.5.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

167. The MaxGaming offer was indeed a sham but bribery and corruption, as opposed to fraud and chicanery, is not established.

A. No.

⁸⁶ Email and clean copies of Gersten's Consulting Agreement, Exhibit LHRE-158, Respondent's Opening Submission, slide 186. Unsavoury consultants were retained to advance the transaction for success fees totaling US $11 million.

6.3.6. Sixth Allegation – Miscellaneous Acts of Bribery and Corruption

168. Other allegations of bribery and corruption were made:

- (a) offer of a US $7 million bribe to the Prime Minister of Laos for approval of a licence to establish a casino in the capital city of Vientiane;⁸⁷
- (b) a bribe of US $80,000 to the Governor of the Province of Champasak to approve a slot club at Chong Mek;⁸⁸ and
- (c) bribes totalling US $106,000 to Government officials to enable the opening and continued operation of the Paksan Slot Club.⁸⁹

There is no “clear and convincing” evidence against the Claimants in support of any of these additional claims of bribery and corruption.

169. As the Claimants point out, the Respondent has identified only two possible Government bribe takers, namely Mr. Bounnong (but there is no indication he has been investigated) and Madam Manivone. The evidence is that Madam Manivone was put under investigation only after refusing to testify for the Respondent.⁹⁰ The Claimants state that on 29 May 2014, the Respondent promised its Rejoinder would reveal the results of its investigation. It did not.

170. The Claimants complain, rightly, that the Respondent’s failure to offer any credible explanation for not pursuing the investigation of its own employees, or indeed even to attempt to identify the alleged bribe-takers, weighs against the credibility of these miscellaneous allegations.⁹¹

171. Nevertheless, in the Tribunal’s view, none of these additional allegations is supported by sufficient evidence to warrant further inquiry or comment.

7. THE CLAIM FOR EXPROPRIATION

7.1. Thanaleng Slot Club

7.1.1. Background

172. At its origin, the dispute underlying the Thanaleng claim is a contractual dispute between two private parties, Sanum and ST. They had signed a Master Agreement on 30 May 2007, where they agreed “to negotiate and work towards entering into certain joint ventures, represented by necessary agreements, which shall convey 60% of all 2nd Party’s [ST] gaming businesses located in the country of Lao PDR ... This Agreement is not intended to be a definitive agreement but only provides the Parties’ general understandings of their relationship. The Parties agree to work together in good faith to negotiate and finalize all necessary agreement to fully implement the concept and terms set forth in this Agreement.”⁹² The Respondent’s treatment of the Thanaleng situation is part of the “totality of the facts” said by counsel for the Claimants to be relevant to LHNV’s Treaty claims.
173. On 4 October 2008, Sanum and ST signed a Participation Agreement for Thanaleng (“Participation Agreement”). Under this agreement, Sanum agreed to supply to ST certain slot machines, on a “generated revenue sharing/participation basis.”⁹³ This

116. Although the Tribunal believes Minister Sultan’s testimony that he was not personally aware that “Mr. Kandil was an agent to Faragy” and that when he did learn about it, “I passed that to the prosecutor requesting a full-fledged investigation”, it is undisputed that Mr. Kandil was never prosecuted in Egypt in connection with this agreement. Regrettably, because Egypt has failed to present the Tribunal with any information about the investigation requested by Minister Sultan, the Tribunal does not know whether an investigation was conducted and, if so, whether the investigation was closed because the prosecutor determined that Mr. Kandil was innocent, because of lack of evidence, or because of complicity by other government officials. Nevertheless, given the fact that the Egyptian government was made aware of this agreement by Minister Sultan but decided (for whatever reasons) not to prosecute Mr. Kandil, the Tribunal is reluctant to immunize Egypt from liability in this arbitration because it now alleges that the agreement with Mr. Kandil was illegal under Egyptian law.

⁹² Master Agreement, Exhibit C(B)-1.

⁹³ Participation Agreement, Exhibit C(B)-6.

agreement was meant to expire on 11 October 2011 when an existing contract of ST with another supplier of slot machines expired. As explained by Sanum, “the expiration of the Participation [Agreement] is only the end of percentage of profit distribution and proportion of shareholding of each party in the business participation of the Slot Club, which shifted from ST Group who used to receive 60% to receive 40% instead, and Sanum who used to receive 40% to receive 60%, and at the same time (after 11 October 2011) there shall change or create a joint venture company of which Sanum holds 60% and ST Group 40%.”⁹⁴

174. The controversy arose because Sanum and ST disagreed on whether the Master Agreement remained in force and was valid and created binding obligations on the parties, despite the expiration of the Participation Agreement. Was the Participation Agreement a temporary agreement just to cover the period of time when other slot machine supplier agreements were in place? Once those slot machine supplier contracts expired, did the Master Agreement and other agreements referenced above remain in effect and control the contractual relationship between Sanum and the ST Group?⁹⁵

7.1.2. The Parties’ Arguments

175. The Claimants argue that they were deprived of their investment by flawed court proceedings tainted by interference by the Respondent and without payment of compensation. The Claimants summarize the measures for which they seek relief as follows: “Beginning with premature termination of the OEDR proceedings on orders from the Minister of Justice, and police participation in Sanum’s eviction from the Thanaleng Club, and ending with manifestly unreasonable judgments rendered by the courts of Laos, Respondent directed a result in favor of ST that deprived Sanum of its entitlement to 60% of the revenues generated by its investment in the Thanaleng Slot Club. The entire process was marred by manifest procedural defects, as well as producing a result that was substantially unreasonable.”⁹⁶ Sanum’s loss impacted the value of LHNV’s investment in Sanum.

⁹⁵ Ibid. The term “supplier contract” is used in singular or plural indistinctly in the original text.

176. At the closing of the Hearing, the Claimants confirmed that their Thanaleng claim in this proceeding is not based on denial of justice but on the allegation that the totality of the Respondent’s treatment substantially deprived the Claimants of the enjoyment of their investment without the payment of compensation.⁹⁷
177. The Claimants insist that Sanum did have an ownership interest in Thanaleng as established in the Master Agreement, and invested millions of dollars in Thanaleng. The Claimants argue that the Respondent’s interpretation of the Master Agreement is contrary to the understanding and conduct of the parties to this agreement; it was a binding agreement that contemplated future negotiations between Sanum and a would-be supplier of slot machines and not between Sanum and ST. The fact that the Master Agreement contemplated additional agreements does not detract from its binding character. The Claimants point out that when ST sought the judicial annulment of the Master Agreement, the document was described as the “basic agreement defining rights in order to manage the relations between both parties.”⁹⁸
178. The Claimants dispute the relevance of the cases relied on by the Respondent because in the instant case the Respondent consistently treated the Master Agreement as legally binding, “[o]nly Laos – for the first time in these proceedings – has ever characterized the Master Agreement as an agreement to agree that did not generate legally enforceable rights.”⁹⁹
179. According to the Claimants, ST refused repeatedly to accept payment in exchange for a contractually-required exchange of rights which did not extinguish the rights of Sanum,

“but merely constituted another breach by ST of its obligations to relinquish control of the club to Sanum.”¹⁰⁰

180. The Respondent submits that the decision of the Lao Courts concerns a private dispute between ST and Sanum and there was nothing untoward in the various judicial proceedings in Laos. According to the Respondent, the Claimant has committed abuse of process by pursuing contradictory claims in parallel arbitrations against Laos based on the same treaties and the same economic interests. In this respect, the Respondent, at the Hearing, recounted the time line of the procedure:

We have in July 2012 the decision of the Lao Commercial Court. Immediately, before they exhausted their local remedies, which they are required to do under international law, they filed this arbitration alleging that the Thanaleng court decision was a denial of justice and an expropriation. Later they amended to say it’s an expropriation.

In June 2015, there was a decision by the LHNV tribunal on the first material, the breach application. They didn’t prevail.

Three months later, they filed the SIAC arbitration against ST on the same contracts, alleging that the Lao court proceedings had no meaning, they were just -- how would one say it?

One would say their view of the Lao court proceedings in Singapore was that they were a voluntary mediation. If you don’t like the result of a mediation, you withdraw and you go to court. That’s how they’re treating the Lao court proceeding when they go to Singapore: it didn’t matter, is it wasn’t definitive.

So, they get an ST SIAC Award in August 2016. They filed it in the Lao courts in 2017.

Then the Lao courts refused to enforce it in August 2017. On 1 September 2017, they filed a denial of justice claim in the new ICSID arbitration. Then in December 2017, the second material breach application was granted, reinstating this tribunal to hear the Thanaleng case again.

So they have these conflicting – once you issued the second material breach decision, it revived these two treaty claims that are in conflict with the treaty claims they had filed in September 2017.¹⁰¹

¹⁰⁰ Ibid., para. 48.

¹⁰¹ Amended Transcript, 3 September 2018, p. 143, 6-25 to p. 144, 1-17.

181. The Respondent further explained:

Sanum said in these cases that the 26 July 2012 decision of the court was expropriation number one. They said their rights were expropriated, that's the claim here, and they filed the first BIT claims in August 2012.

But the second BIT arbitration says that the date of expropriation was August 2017 when the Lao courts refused to enforce the SIAC award, and that's the subject of the second BIT arbitration.

So you have these inconsistent claims made by the same claimant under the same treaties, based on the same facts. We say that's an abuse of process.¹⁰²

7.1.3. Tribunal's Ruling

182. The Thanaleng claim relates to a dispute between the Claimants and ST. It concerns the Respondent only to the extent of the Respondent's alleged interference in court proceedings, and only if its actions could be characterized as a violation of international law.

183. The Claimants have placed the weight of their argument on the alleged interference of the Respondent in the Lao Commercial Court proceedings in 2012. But the dispute resolution provision in the Master Agreement (Article 2.10)¹⁰³ provides for a four-stage mechanism. At the fourth stage, after a party to the Master Agreement has exhausted the remedies available in the Lao Courts, it may submit the dispute to arbitration if it is unsatisfied with the result without the need to demonstrate a breach of due process or other violations in the conduct of the court proceedings.

¹⁰² Ibid., p. 145, 5-19.

¹⁰³ "If any dispute shall arise, the Parties agree to conduct an amicable negotiation. If such dispute cannot be settled by mediation, the Parties may submit such disputes to the Resolution of Economic Dispute Organization or Courts of the Lao PDR according to the provision and law of Lao PDR in accordance with this Agreement. All proceedings of the arbitration shall be conducted in Lao and English languages.

Before settlement by the arbitrator under the Rules of the Resolution of Economic Dispute Organization, the Parties shall use all efforts to assist the dispute resolution in accordance with the laws of Lao PDR.

If one of the Parties is unsatisfied with the results of the above procedure, the Parties shall mediate and, if necessary, arbitrate such dispute using internationally recognized mediation/arbitration company in Macao, SAR PRC." Master Agreement, C(B)-001.

184. The Claimants also explained that the four-step mechanism provided for in the Master Agreement has been found to violate Lao law and, therefore, “any award rendered under the mechanism that differed from the judgment of the Lao Courts would [not] be enforceable in Laos (the only country where the ST’s assets are now located) as a matter of Lao ‘public policy.’”¹⁰⁴
185. Sanum has exercised in full the four levels of remedies provided for in the Master Agreement. After exhausting its recourse to the Lao Courts, Sanum initiated the SIAC arbitration in 2015. In 2016, the SIAC tribunal awarded Sanum the $200 million it had claimed.
186. The Claimants say that they have not been able to enforce the SIAC award and link the inability to enforce it to the alleged interference of the Respondent in the Lao Commercial Court in 2012. As explained by the Claimants at the Hearing:

The problem is, looking at the totality of the circumstances, the Lao Court of Appeals – and that’s the highest level in an enforcement proceeding – won’t allow enforcement of the SIAC award and so the original action that the government took in ramming the original decision through to benefit ST and forcing claimants to have to go to that additional stage, to have to go to the fourth stage, that allowed ST the time to move all of its assets back into Laos and put the claimants in a position where they would be dependent on going to Laos to enforce the award against ST where the same thing, or worse, could happen. So, there was a distinct consequence at the stage of the measure relating to the Thanaleng proceeding in 2012.

Even if the claimant could then go on to the SIAC proceeding, which it did, there was still a consequence and there was still harm caused by that action, because being able to go to the fourth tier, that didn’t right the ship. That didn’t enable Sanum to have a clear path to recovery. So there’s still consequences to what the government did in 2012.”¹⁰⁵

187. The Claimants want to skip over the fact that Sanum has a valid arbitral award against a private party in which it was awarded 200 million dollars after it exhausted the remedies in the Lao Courts for the alleged interference of the Respondent in the Lao Commercial Court back in 2012. The alleged inability to enforce the award is not before this Tribunal

¹⁰⁴ Ibid., Slide 69.

¹⁰⁵ Amended Transcript, 7 September 2018, p. 40, 19-25 to p. 41, 1-17.

and it has not been proven by the Claimants that “there was a distinct consequence [of the Government’s alleged interference] at the stage of the measure relating to the Thanaleng proceeding in 2012.”¹⁰⁶ There is simply no persuasive evidence that the alleged interference of the Respondent in the proceeding of a lower court interfered with the steps taken by the Claimants to exercise their rights under the Master Agreement and, in particular, their recourse to SIAC arbitration.

188. The Claimants say their claim in the SIAC arbitration was not for the full amount of the value lost in Thanaleng. The Claimants explained why Sanum capped its claim for damages:

in part because ST did not appear and that raised the issue of whether or not they were going to hide assets, such that it was fruitless to seek the full value of Thanaleng. The full value of Thanaleng, I know we’re bifurcated so we’re not going to talk very much about those kind of things, but the full value of Thanaleng is more than 400 million in order to not have the fees, and in light of the practical recognition that ST was likely hiding its assets, we capped the SIAC claim at 200 million. So it won’t be possible to recover the full amount from ST to cover the cost of the damage that the government caused by directing the Thanaleng case in Laos.¹⁰⁷

189. The Respondent is not responsible for the decision of the Claimants to self-limit the amount of the claim against ST. The evidence does not establish any improper interference by the Respondent in the court proceedings.
190. In sum, the Tribunal concludes that the claim for expropriation in respect of the Thanaleng investment lacks any merit.

7.2. Paksong Vegas Hotel and Casino

191. Although the Claimants have in this instance put their focus on Sanum’s contractual rights, LHNV is also involved as Sanum’s parent, and is equally subject to the Respondent’s defence of lack of good faith and lack of clean hands in both the ICSID and PCA proceedings, sufficient to disqualify the Claimants or either of them from any Treaty

¹⁰⁶ Amended Transcript, 7 September 2018, p. 41, 7-9.

¹⁰⁷ Amended Transcript, 3 September 2018, p. 125, 3-16.

remedy. Further, the Tribunal accepts the invitation of counsel for the Claimants to consider “the totality” of the facts as relevant to the Treaty breaches for which LHNV seeks relief, and in particular the presence or absence of good faith in respect of LHNV’s direct and indirect investments in Laos.

7.2.1. Background

192. On 10 August 2007, a Project Development Agreement was concluded between Lao PDR, and Sanum, the Laotian company Nouansavanh Construction Co. Ltd., and Mr. Sittixay Xaysana for the development of the Paksong casino (“Paksong PDA”). Under the Paksong PDA, a Laotian entity, Paksong Vegas and Casino Co. Ltd., was set up with Lao PDR holding 20%, Sanum 60% and the ST entities 20%. The Paksong PDA required the Company to build and operate a $25 million hotel casino and golf resort in the Paksong district of Champasak Province.

7.2.2. Location of Paksong

193. As explained by the Claimants, the location was challenging:

“The challenges were both logistical and commercial. Logistically, Paksong’s location meant that transportation of construction materials would be more costly than at the Savan Vegas site, as access to the site was more difficult and time consuming, and that other construction costs would be significantly higher than those of Savan Vegas. Also, the concession was located on the side of a large hill which precluded the building of simple, large buildings to house the hotel and casino and other amenities. Commercially, since Paksong was not located on the border with Thailand or even in a population center in Laos that was easy to access, it lacked a readily identifiable customer base. The challenges of attracting customers made it difficult to identify the optimal type of facility to construct on the site.”¹⁰⁸

¹⁰⁸ Sanum Statement of Claim, para. 63 (PCA Proceeding) as referred by the Parties before this Tribunal for “the totality” of the facts, see supra paras. 3 and 191.

(Respondent's Opening Submission Slide, 96)

194. Mr. Baldwin testified about the problem posed by Paksong's distance from the Thai border:

Another challenge posed by Paksong Vegas had to do with its customer base. Because Lao citizens generally are restricted from playing table games, the customer base for our casinos consists largely of Thai citizens who live in Northeastern Thailand. However, because Paksong Vegas would be located deep in Laos's interior, without easy access to the border, we were concerned that it would be difficult to attract customers to the casino.¹⁰⁹

195. These challenges notwithstanding, Mr. John Baldwin testified that the Paksong project package "came with very valuable benefits. Chief among these were the monopoly gaming rights in Champasak and Salavan Provinces granted to Paksong Vegas under the PDA."¹¹⁰

196. Due to the challenges posed by the site, on 31 March 2008, Paksong Vegas proposed to the provincial government, inter alia, to move the entire project to the area near Chong Mek. On 29 April 2008, the proposal was rejected by the provincial government.

197. On 21 August 2008, the office of the Prime Minister advised that Paksong Vegas was to return Paksong and pursue only the project at Khone Phapheng (where the Government also favoured development) together with other interested parties. The notice from the Champasak Provincial Office requested Sanum “to follow the agreements already reached by higher authority and only do the work at Kilometer 30 in Paksong. (According to instructions from the Government Secretariat, if the company cannot comply, then the project must be placed on hold for now).”¹¹¹ The notice added that “[i]t is not approved to open casino branches in Paksong and other places, only at Khone Phapheng. The Paksong land (Kilometer 30) will be returned to the Government.”¹¹²

198. On 23 October 2008, the Prime Minister’s Office issued a notice, purporting to strip Paksong Vegas of its monopoly rights. The Prime Minister’s Office also reiterated that Yingsoksay, the operator of the existing hotel and resort in the area, could look for other foreign investors to develop Khone Phapheng; Paksong Vegas could participate in that development if it chose to do so, but either way, according to the Prime Minister’s Office, it no longer had the exclusive right to do so. Further, on 19 December 2008, Champasak provincial authorities instructed Paksong Vegas to return the land concession it had been granted so it could be used for “another purpose,” referencing the Prime Minister’s 21 August 2008 notice.¹¹³
199. On 30 January 2009, a meeting was held in the MPI’s offices. It was attended by all Lao agencies concerned and Paksong Vegas. The Paksong Vegas and Casino Development Project and the Khone Phapheng Entertainment Complex Project Development were discussed. The Tribunal will re-visit this meeting in its analysis.
200. On 27 April 2010, the MPI terminated the PDA because Paksong Vegas had not signed a land concession agreement in accordance with Article 4 of the PDA, and construction on the project had been delayed for more than two years, which affected the “social-economic development plan of Champasak province.”¹¹⁴ Termination of the PDA was re-affirmed by the Respondent on 10 April 2012.

201. The Respondent claims that Sanum was not a ready, willing and able investor for the Paksong project. The Claimants argue that the Respondent ignores the evidence that Lao authorities had ordered Sanum to cease construction and two years later without prior notice cancelled the PDA on grounds of failing to develop the land. According to the Respondent, Sanum did not dispute the concession because the location was not commercially acceptable. The Respondent explains that Paksong and Savannakhet were linked; they were part of a bargain: whoever would develop Savannakhet, an excellent commercial site, must also develop the less attractive Paksong. The provincial government was keen to develop the remote areas while Sanum was interested only in more profitable sites; the interests of Sanum as a commercial developer and of the provincial government were not aligned.
202. Mr. Baldwin wanted to develop a site at Chong Mek. He agreed that the monopoly rights were limited to the Paksong development area and did not include Chong Mek, “unless the government agreed to modify this. The way it’s written right now, it does not include Chong Mek but it doesn’t say we can’t ask for modifications.”¹¹⁵ Mr. Baldwin appeared to be following a strategy of bait and switch.
203. The terms of the notice rejecting the proposal affirm that at the time the Government’s intention was not to terminate the PDA, but to request that the existing agreements be respected.
204. The Claimant admitted, at the meeting of 30 January 2009, that “it has not carried out the Paksong Vegas project as scheduled in the contract and as it was presented to the Province.”

¹¹⁴ Statement of Claim, para. 82, as referred by the Parties before this Tribunal for “the totality” of the facts, see supra paras. 3 and 191.

¹¹⁵ Amended Transcript, 4 September 2018, p. 216, 19-22.

Mr. Baldwin confirmed at the Hearing that no contract to build a $25 million five-star hotel with a casino and nightclub was ever signed.¹¹⁶

205. Paksong Vegas had not made the investment it had promised in the PDA within the required timeframe as admitted by Mr. Baldwin and, in the Tribunal's view, never intended to.

7.2.3. The Tribunal's Analysis

206. On Mr. Baldwin's own admission, the Claimants never believed that the Paksong site could be developed on commercially attractive terms. The Claimants' argument that work was being done and, if not done, was due to the Government order to stop the work is not credible. Accordingly, while the issue of the expropriation of the Paksong Vegas investment is not before this Tribunal as such, and this Tribunal does not purport to decide any issue which is not before it, nevertheless the underlying facts of the Paksong Vegas venture reinforce the Respondent's general defence that Mr. Baldwin's relationship with Laos was throughout characterized by bad faith. To the extent necessary to determine the bad faith issues, and for that purpose alone, the Tribunal finds on a careful review of the facts that not only has LHNV failed to demonstrate any lack of good faith on the part of the Respondent in respect of Paksong Vegas but, on the contrary, concludes that Mr. Baldwin negotiated throughout his dealings with the Respondent in bad faith and that such bad faith is to be attributed to LHNV on the basis that as the directing mind of LHNV, the parent of Sanum, Mr. Baldwin's conduct was and is its conduct.

7.3. Paksan Slot Club

207. Although the Claimants' primary focus is on Sanum in respect of Paksan, LHNV is also implicated as Sanum's parent, and the Paksan episode is relevant to the Respondent's allegation that the entirety of the Claimants' investments in Laos was tainted from first to last by bad faith.

¹¹⁶ Amended Transcript, 5 September 2018, p. 63, 4-7.

7.3.1. Background

208. As told by Sanum and not disputed by the Respondent, the relevant facts are that “[s]oon after Sanum agreed to partner with ST, it discovered that there was an existing slot club in operation in the Paksan district of Bolikhamxay Province - one of the provinces in which Savan Vegas has the exclusive right to operate. To enforce that exclusive right, ST asked the Government of Bolikhamxay Province to shut down the club, and it did so.”¹¹⁷ The existence of the slot club led Savan Vegas to open its own club at the same location, the Paksan Hotel.
209. The Ministry of Information and Culture (“MIC”) granted Savan Vegas a one-year license to operate a slot club in the Bolikhamxay Province on 24 October 2007. The MIC renewed the license on 26 November 2008.
210. After the lease of the former club expired in October 2008, Savan Vegas signed its own lease on 25 December 2008 and refurbished the space in the Paksan Hotel formerly occupied by the slot club. The club re-opened on 25 October 2009 and the MIC renewed the slot license for another year on 27 October 2009.
211. On 18 February 2010, the Prime Minister’s Office ordered the slot club license to be cancelled: “The authorization to open an electronic gaming club granted to Savan Vegas Ltd. by the Information and Culture Department of Bolikhamxay Province is not in accordance with regulations in that it exceeds the authority of that office. Therefore, you should stop operation of electronic gaming at Paksan Hotel. Further, the company is no longer authorized to erect an advertising billboard in Bolikhamxay Province.”¹¹⁸
212. The license was not renewed in 2010. On 11 March 2011, the Government ordered the MIC and the provincial Governor to close the club within three days. The club closed on 13 March 2011. Sanum and Savan Vegas petitioned the Prime Minister to re-open the club.

¹¹⁷ Sanum Statement of Claim, para. 89, as referred by the Parties before this Tribunal for “the totality” of the facts, see supra para. 3.

¹¹⁸ Exhibit C(S)-326, p. 3, as referred by the Parties before this Tribunal for “the totality” of the facts, see supra para. 3.

The petition was denied on 19 May 2011 and Savan Vegas was ordered to comply with Notice No. 305.

7.3.2. The Tribunal's Analysis

213. The Tribunal concludes that the license granted in 2009 had expired in October 2010 and had not been renewed. Monopoly rights kept competitors out but did not entitle Savan Vegas to establish and operate other gambling facilities unless those other facilities were specifically authorized. The Claimants have not shown that Savan Vegas had a right to the license's renewal or even that it attempted to renew the license.
214. At the time the Paksan slot club closed, the club was operating without a license and there is no documentary evidence that the Respondent had created any legitimate expectation in the Claimants that the license would be renewed or that it may operate de facto as if it had a license. The Claimants' argument about a de facto license begs the question of why Sanum had applied for the license's renewal in the preceding years. The Tribunal concludes that the license expired on its own terms and had terminated when the slot club was ordered to be closed. The Tribunal accordingly concludes, as with the Paksong Vegas expropriation claim, that while the Paksan slot club expropriation claim is not before this Tribunal as such, the underlying facts bear directly on the allegations of bad faith on the part of the Respondent asserted before this Tribunal by the Claimant, LHNV. The Tribunal finds on a careful review of the facts that LHNV has failed to demonstrate any lack of good faith on the part of the Respondent in respect to Paksan, but on the contrary that Mr. Baldwin's bad faith activity is to be attributed to LHNV, Sanum's parent, on the basis that Mr. Baldwin is the directing mind of LHNV and his conduct is attributable to LHNV.

7.4. Thakhet Casino and Hotel Resort

215. In this situation, as well, the Claimants and the Government accuse each other of bad faith. Mr. Baldwin, the directing mind of both Claimants, testified at length about the bad faith treatment he received from the Government in respect of Thakhet. The Government, on the other hand, presents Thakhet as further proof that Mr. Baldwin and LHNV were bad faith investors who are not entitled to treaty protection. These cross allegations are relevant to LHNV's Treaty claims.

216. In 2010, Sanum started negotiations with the Committee for the Laos-Thailand Friendship Bridge III Economic Zone Development (the "SEZ" and the "SEZ Committee") for a land concession at the foot of a planned bridge to cross the Mekong River. The negotiations resulted in a MOU between Sanum and the SEZ Committee dated 20 October 2010. The MOU contemplated a land concession to Sanum of about 90 hectares in the SEZ, payment by Sanum of US $900,000 to allow the provincial government to compensate individuals occupying the land, and US $400,000 to be paid upon signature of the MOU. The MOU required Sanum to sign a land concession within 30 days and secure all necessary approvals from the central and local governments within one year prior to building on the concession land.
217. On 4 February 2011, Savan Vegas submitted a proposal for a slot club to the Governor of the Khammouane Province and the MIC. The proposal was supported by the Governor and, on 21 February 2011, the MIC approved the Savan Vegas's Welcome Center and Slot Club. Shortly thereafter, on 2 March 2011, the Prime Minister's Office directed the MIC to revoke its approval because slot club licenses may only be issued "by the Government" which was interpreted by the Prime Minister to mean the Prime Minister's Office.¹¹⁹ On 29 March 2011, Sanum and Savan Vegas petitioned the Prime Minister's Office to grant permission to open the Welcome Center and Slot Club in the SEZ. The petition was rejected in October 2011.
218. It was decided in the Tribunal's ruling on the Merits of the Claimant's Second Material Breach Application that, in the Tribunal's view, the Claimants have not established a land entitlement that includes the disputed 16 hectares, and there is no undertaking by the Government in Section 22 to use its powers of eminent domain to expropriate the existing private owners for the financial benefit of the Claimant. Refusal to expropriate private land for the private gain of the Claimant does not constitute evidence of ‘bad faith.’¹²⁰

219. This decision was reached by the Tribunal in the context of whether the Government breached Article 22 of the Deed of Settlement by failing to negotiate the Thakhet related agreements in good faith. The Tribunal considers that the Claimants have also failed to establish rights to the remainder of the land referred to in the MOU. Sanum had 365 days from the date of the Land Concession Agreement to seek all the approvals for all investment activities described in the MOU. In turn, before the Land Concession Agreement could be signed, Sanum needed to complete a Feasibility Study, a Master Plan and a Socio-Economic and Environmental Impact Study for the Land Concession, all to be approved by the Concessioner. The Land Concession Agreement required by the MOU was never signed; it never went beyond the negotiation stage. Despite face to face negotiations over the PDA throughout the summer and fall of 2011, Sanum and the SEZ Committee had not finalized the terms of the PDA, including the land concession.¹²¹ In the overall picture, whether or not Sanum had obtained a licence had no impact on the viability of its Thakhaek project.
220. In the view of the Tribunal it is clear from the MOU that Savan Vegas could not expand to Thakhaek in the Kammouane Province without the “final approval from all governmental authorities (central and local).”¹²² The MOU provides for the eventuality that the approval is forthcoming and also in case it is not.¹²³ Furthermore, the MOU subjects the exact location of the Concession Land to a future agreement: “Once the exact location of the Concession Land has been agreed upon, the Concessionee will confirm its acceptance of the Concession Land in writing to the Concessioner.”¹²⁴ There was never any agreement in this respect.

¹²³ Exhibit RE-101, clauses 2.3(c) and (d).

¹²⁴ Exhibit RE-101, clause 3.1.

7.4.1. The Tribunal's Analysis

221. The MOU shows that Savan Vegas' monopoly rights did not encompass a right to establish slot clubs or casinos beyond the area covered by the Savan Vegas PDA:

If the Concessionee would like to expand the casino or slot business of Savan Vegas, which is an investment project of Sanum Investments Limited according to the Foreign Investment License no. 09507 [not readable], dated 17 August 2007 to the Concession Land to be a branch (Welcome Center) of Savan Vegas such expansion shall be proposed, approved and agreed in writing from the Government first before implementing such expansion. The Khammouane Province wilfully [sic] support the expansion of Savan Vegas to the Land Concession according to the appropriate procedures and regulations.¹²⁵

222. As regards the slot license, the Tribunal notes that the Respondent's witnesses from the MIC and the Government Secretariat Office have claimed that the license was issued by mistake.¹²⁶ The Respondent has argued that the MIC had no authority to issue the license because of Notice No. 1957 of the Prime Minister and says that the license was procured by a bribe. Leaving aside the issue of the bribes allegedly paid by the Claimants, the Tribunal observes that the license was effective for less than ten days and that the revocation was justified on the lack of authority of the MIC to grant it. The Tribunal appreciates that Notice No. 1957 refers to the Government and is not explicitly limited to the Prime Minister's office but by 2011 Sanum was fully aware that the Prime Minister's Office was the essential authority on the Claimants' gambling ventures in Laos. The Prime Minister's Office never approved the Claimants' gambling project in Thakhaek. The Claimants had just finished a bruising encounter with the Government over the Claimants' failure to fulfill its obligations in respect of the Paksong Hotel and Casino project. By 2011, the Claimants had entirely failed to live up to their Paksong commitments, while pretending otherwise. The Claimants had demonstrated themselves not to be good faith investors.

¹²⁵ Exhibit RE-101, clause 3.3.

¹²⁶ Sanum Reply, para. 316, fn 767, as referred by the Parties before this Tribunal for "the totality" of the facts, see supra para. 3.

223. In the Tribunal's view, the Claimants were seeking in bad faith (even if not by bribes) to manipulate Government officials to obtain approvals to which the Claimants were not entitled. It is significant that the MIC licence was issued to Sanum in February 2011 by the same Minister who was ordered to cancel the Paksan license for lack of authority one year earlier in February 2010.
224. Negotiations for the renewal of the Flat Tax Agreement had stalled by March 2011. The Government was agitating for accountability in respect of its 20% interest in Savan Vegas. The Claimants allege that the 16-hectare parcel on Highway 13 was essential to the success of their Thakhaek project, yet negotiations for the 16-hectare parcel never reached agreement in the Tribunal's view.
225. The Tribunal concludes that there is insufficient evidence of bad faith on either side in respect of Thakhek. It was simply a commercial possibility that never reached the stage of agreement.

8. VIOLATION OF OTHER TREATY RIGHTS

226. The Treaty claims are brought by the Claimant LHNV under the Netherlands-Lao BIT. Nevertheless, the allegations of bad faith and treaty violations extend to the Government's treatment of all of the Claimants' investments, as well as the Government's defence of its treatment of all of the LHNV and Sanum investments. Again, the Tribunal recalls the submission by counsel for the Claimants that "the totality of the facts remains relevant to certain treaty breaches for which the Claimants will seek relief."¹²⁷ However, in this part 8, where reference is made to the "Claimant" (singular), it refers to LHNV only.

8.1. The Claimant's Allegations of Unfair and Inequitable Treatment

227. LHNV contends that it was denied fair and equitable treatment pursuant to Article 3(1) of the Treaty in respect of Thanaleng.

¹²⁷ Letter dated 26 March 2018 from Claimant to the Tribunal.

228. With respect to the fair and equitable treatment claims, the Claimant contends that even if the applicable standard is no higher than the minimum standard of treatment under customary international law as contended by the Respondent, the Claimant should succeed because there has been “a gross denial of justice, manifest arbitrariness, blatant unfairness, a complete lack of due process, evident discrimination, or a manifest lack of reasons.”¹²⁸
229. The Claimant alleges that Respondent also violated Article 3(4) of the Treaty (Umbrella Clause Claims) by repudiating its contractual obligations as follows:
- (a) the Respondent imposed construction and brokerage taxes and overtime fees in violation of the FTA;¹²⁹ and
 - (b) the audit of Savan Vegas violated provisions in the Shareholders’ Agreement and in the PDA that protected Savan Vegas from unreasonable document and information requests.¹³⁰
230. The Claimant further alleges that Respondent inflicted discriminatory and less favourable treatment on Sanum and its investments (in relation to Articles 3(1), 3(2) and 4 of the Treaty) with the following measures:
- (a) by imposing a 30% tax rate on the Ferry Terminal Slot Club, which was over 100 times more than the 0.22% rate charged to ST;¹³¹
 - (b) by assisting ST in ejecting Sanum from its Thanaleng joint venture investment;¹³²
 - (c) by pursuing an unlawful audit by E&Y which favoured ST over Sanum by facilitating ST’s attack on Sanum’s management of Savan Vegas.¹³³

¹³² Claimant’s Memorial, paras. 211-214.

¹³³ Claimant’s Memorial, paras. 192201 and 213.

231. In respect of the Thanaleng Slot Club (in relation to Article 3(1) and 6 of the Treaty):
- (a) the Respondent deprived the Claimant of the benefit of its investment through arbitrary, unfair and discriminatory court proceedings that lacked any semblance of due process and by the participation of its law enforcement officials in physically evicting Sanum personnel and machines from Thanaleng;¹³⁴
 - (b) by the same conduct, the Respondent also violated both the fair and equitable treatment and the unreasonable or discriminatory impairment standards contained in Article 3(1) of the BIT.¹³⁵

8.2. The Onus of Proof

232. The Claimant accepts both the legal onus and the evidentiary onus of establishing one or more treaty breaches on a balance of probabilities.

8.3. The Claimant's Lack of Good Faith

233. Much of the Claimants' case rests on the allegation that it proceeded in all respects in good faith but was thwarted at every turn by a corrupt and devious Government acting in bad faith. On the contrary, in the Tribunal's view the evidence is clear that the Claimants dealt in bad faith with the Government from the initial signing of the Paksong Hotel and Casino PDA calling for a US $25 million hotel and casino and thereafter included the financial irregularities in the operation of the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino. The Claimants never intended to build a US $25 million facility in Paksong. From the Claimants' perspective, the benefit of the Paksong PDA was a monopoly to block other more serious investors from offering gambling facilities in Champaska and Salavan Provinces. Having obtained the monopoly, the Claimants attempted to force the Government's hand in relocating the project to what, from the Government's perspective, was a much less attractive site. The bad faith continued through the disputes over the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino, which was built but operated in defiance of Sanum’s reporting obligations to the Government (and, when the books were eventually opened, revealed significant financial irregularities). The bad faith continued with Mr. Baldwin’s recent efforts to deter Madam Sengkeo’s appearance to testify at the merits proceeding and the sham MaxGaming offer to purchase Savan Vegas in April of 2015.

234. The principle of good faith arises in investment treaty arbitrations in various contexts. Tribunals, of course, regularly refer to Article 31(1) of the Vienna Convention for the rule that treaties shall be interpreted in good faith. The obligation extends to a duty of parties to arbitrate in good faith.¹³⁶ In Phoenix v. Czech Republic, the tribunal referred to Phoenix’s “initiation and pursuit of this arbitration” as “an abuse of the system of international ICSID investment arbitration.”¹³⁷ (The tribunal found an abuse of rights in that case by the “claimant’s creation of a legal fiction in order to gain access to an international arbitration procedure to which it was not entitled.”¹³⁸)
235. The Tribunal listened carefully to the testimony of Mr. John Baldwin and found him to be an argumentative witness who preferred evasion to candour. Much of his testimony was simply not credible. He proceeded in bad faith from the outset in assuring the Government that he intended to invest US $25 million at the Paksong site, which by his own account would have been highly unprofitable.
236. Mr. Baldwin is the directing mind of both Claimant companies. His conduct throughout was to advance their corporate interests. His bad faith conduct is their conduct. While the Government’s conduct was at times aggressive and inappropriate in relation to the Settlement (as documented, for example, in the Second Material Breach Application), nevertheless the Claimants failed to establish that the Government acted in bad faith in ¹³⁶ Libananco Holdings Co Limited v. Republic of Turkey, ICSID Case No. ARB/06/8, Final Award, Exhibit CLA-168, where good faith was discussed in the context of the alleged interception and surveillance by Turkish police of legally privileged communications between the claimant, its counsel and witnesses. relation to the investors or the investments during the time period covered by this revived arbitration.

237. It is well established that the bad faith conduct of the investor is relevant to the grant of relief under an investment treaty.¹³⁹
238. To summarize, the particular acts of bad faith by Mr. Baldwin on behalf of the Claimants of most concern to the Tribunal are:
- (A) misrepresentations made to the Government to obtain Paksong Hotel and Casino PDA on the strength of a promise to make a US $25 million investment on the site which, in the Tribunal's view, the Claimants never intended to pursue;
 - (b) likely making illegal payments to Government officials to stop the E&Y audit of the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino;
 - (c) likely attempting to obstruct justice with the payment of US $875,000 to Madam Sengkeo directed, as to US $575,000 to the obstruction of the due process of this arbitration by paying Madam Sengkeo not to testify;
 - (d) attempting to mislead the Treaty Tribunals with the sham offer to purchase the Savan Vegas from MaxGaming Consulting.¹⁴⁰
239. As will be seen, the Claimant's allegations of the other treaty violations (in addition to expropriation) also fail on the facts. However, having listened to Mr. Baldwin's

¹³⁹ See UNCTAD Series on International Agreements III, Fair and Equitable Treatment (2012) at pp. 83-85:

Investor conduct has emerged as a relevant factor in the analysis of FET claims by arbitral tribunals. It may be relevant in two ways. First, it may justify the measure taken against the investor by the respondent country. Thus in Genin v. Estonia, the tribunal found that the Estonian national bank had good reasons to revoke the operating license of the claimant's investment because the claimant had failed to disclose relevant facts. In such cases, the adverse measure serves as a State's reaction to, or a sanction for the investor's conduct...Fraud or misrepresentation on the part of an investor may form the basis of a legitimate regulatory interference with its rights. In such cases, even the outright termination of the investment may be justified, provided it is a proportionate response to the investor's conduct in light of the relevant domestic laws of the host State...in some situations, an investor's own conduct may be held to be a cause for the harm suffered.

explanations over several hearings of his dealings with Laos, the Tribunal wishes to leave in no doubt its conclusion that Mr. Baldwin and LHNV exhibited manifest bad faith in various efforts not only to manipulate the Government to advance their gambling initiatives but, in the instance of Madam Sengkeo, to manipulate the arbitration process itself.

8.4. Alleged Wrongful Treatment of the Thanaleng Investment

240. At issue are the proceedings before the Courts of Laos between Sanum and ST. The Claimants allege that they were denied due process to a level that constituted a denial of justice.

8.4.1. The Claimant's Argument

241. In respect of the Thanaleng Slot Club, the Claimants contend that:

- (a) the Government deprived the Claimant LHNV of the benefit of its investment in Sanum through arbitrary, unfair and discriminatory court proceedings that lacked any semblance of due process and by the participation of its law enforcement officials in physically evicting Sanum personnel and machines from Thanaleng;¹⁴¹
- (b) by the same conduct, the Respondent also violated both the fair and equitable treatment and the unreasonable or discriminatory impairment standards contained in Article 3(1) of the BIT.¹⁴²

242. While the origin of the court case was a “private dispute”, the Claimants contend that their Thanaleng claims manifestly implicate the conduct of Lao judicial and executive branch officials including the Minister of Justice and the police on the spot at the time of the seizure. According to Claimants, the result was wrongful internationally because it was arbitrary, unfair, discriminatory and lacked any semblance of due process. Moreover, the ¹⁴² Claimant's Memorial, paras. 178-190, Claimant's Reply, paras. 155-160.

Thangaleng proceedings deprived LHNV of the shareholder value of Sanum's Thanaleng investments without compensation.

243. The Claimants relied upon the expert opinion of Maitre Gérard Ngo¹⁴³ who found due process violations in the Court summons to Sanum, which was made only 48 hours before the trial scheduled for 26 July 2012, the limited duration of the hearing of 26 July 2012 (90 minutes), the brevity of the judges' deliberation and the conclusion set out in the judgment which (the Claimant) argues had been decided before the hearing began.
244. The Claimants allege that the Courts of Laos were controlled and interfered with by the Government against Sanum and constituted a denial of justice. The evidence for this allegation comes from Mr. Baldwin¹⁴⁴ and Mr. Richard Pipes.¹⁴⁵
245. The Claimants further contend that the Minister of Justice wrongfully intervened in the physical eviction of Sanum from the Thanaleng premises on 29 April 2012, thereby favouring ST, contrary to the laws governing the execution of judgments in Laos and principles of international law.

¹⁴³ Maitre Gérard Ngo Expert Report, para. 176.

¹⁴⁴ Mr. Baldwin testified in his Third Witness Statement as follows:

118. I was eventually able to meet with Minister [Justice] Chaleun on 27 April 2012. He said that the pressure to rule against us was coming from "high up". I inquired who was pressuring him, noting that you could not get much higher than the Minister of Justice. I asked if it was the Prime Minister; he said no. I asked if it was the President; he said no. Then I asked if it was the Vice President, Bounnhang Vorachit, and he shrugged his shoulders. I took this to be an acknowledgement that it was the Vice President of Laos who was pressuring Minister Chaleun. I was surprised and disappointed by this sudden change in Chaleun...

Mr. John Baldwin Third Witness Statement, para. 46. See also Mr. John Baldwin Sixth Witness Statement, para. 59.

¹⁴⁵ Mr. Pipes testified in his First Witness Statement as follows:

29. I should note that in several meetings I had with the Chief Judge handling the case, the Chief Judge told me that he too was under a great deal of pressure to resolve the case quickly, with a predetermined result that would not be to our benefit. At times, the Judge was almost apologetic and wanted me to understand that, when cases are filed in which powerful people in Laos have an interest, the result is often mandated by high-ranking Government officials. In fact, the Chief Judge and other Lao attorneys confirmed to me that these types of cases are referred to as "directed ones". At one point, the Chief Judge told me in his chambers that in our case he was "just the driver" and that he was being told where to go.

Richard Pipes First Witness Statement, para. 29.

8.4.2. The Respondent's Argument

246. The Government contends that Sanum had no cognizable interest in the Thanaleng Slot Club because the operative contract (the Temporary Thanaleng Participation Agreement dated 23 February 2010) expired on its own terms on 11 October 2011 and as the Courts of Laos correctly held, the Master Agreement dated 20 May 2007 did not create enforceable rights. The Master Agreement itself so states:

The Parties hereby agree to negotiate and work towards entering into certain joint ventures, represented by necessary agreements, which shall convey 60% of all 2nd Party's gaming business located in the country of Lao PDR (the "Joint Ventures"). This Agreement is not intended to be a definitive agreement but only provides the Parties' general understandings of their relationship. The Parties agree to work together in good faith to negotiate and finalize all necessary agreements to fully implement the concepts and terms set forth in this Agreement.¹⁴⁶ (emphasis added)

247. The trial Court held against Sanum by its decision dated 26 July 2012,¹⁴⁷ affirmed by the Court of Appeal on 11 December 2013¹⁴⁸ and affirmed again by the Supreme Court of Laos on 4 April 2014, whose decision stated:

The Defendant [Sanum] claimed that once the contract with the electrical slot machine supplier expired, the main contract issued on 30 May 2007, and other contracts, should be effective immediately to cover the obligations between Sanum Investment Company (Defendant) and the HT Vegas Company Limited (Plaintiff). However, this is not the case, due to the fact that it is stated in the beginning part of the main contract, wherein it is defined, that this contract has no intent to be a strict contract, as it is only to support the parties toward having an overall understanding of their relationship.

* * * * *

This [evidence] shows that the parties cannot consider the main contract as a completed business joint venture agreement due to this contract determining only general principles on how to develop sub-contracts and agreements between both parties in all gambling joint ventures. Therefore, the parties need to renew the contract to be in compliance with the main contract issued on 30 May 2007.¹⁴⁹ (emphasis added)

248. The Government contends that “the proper procedures were applied under the Lao court rules. Those rules ... plainly meet international standards of procedural fairness.”¹⁵⁰

249. The Respondent’s legal expert, Professor Hervé Ascensio, concluded:

83. On the basis of the rules of international law, and having considered the legal and factual circumstances of the case, my conclusions are the following ones:

1) as far municipal legality, the domestic proceedings complied with the standard of international law;

2) no violation of international law is demonstrated concerning access to an independent and impartial court;

3) no violation of international law is demonstrated concerning the fundamental procedural guarantees;

4) the decisions adopted on the merits by Laotian courts on the Thanaleng site do not reveal a substantive denial of justice.¹⁵¹

250. Respondent contends that the Claimants’ legal expert, Maitre Gérard Ngo, lacks relevant expertise and that (again according the Respondent), his criticisms were effectively rebutted by the Respondent’s expert, Professor Hervé Ascensio, who expressed the view that:

Taking into account the whole of the legal and factual circumstances, it does not appear manifest that the threshold of arbitrary, applicable under public international law, was crossed.¹⁵²

251. The Government considers that there is no credible evidence that it interfered with the Court proceedings.

252. Sanum was afforded due process in knowing the case it had to meet and every opportunity to lead evidence and make submissions in its own defence.

8.4.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

253. The Tribunal's role is to apply international law, not the domestic law of Laos. It has no jurisdiction to sit on appeal from the Courts of Laos. As stated by the Arif v. Moldova tribunal:

The Tribunal is not in a position and has no competence to take sides in this controversy. If it tried, it would indeed sit as a court of appeal over decisions of the Moldovan judiciary.¹⁵³

254. The decision of three levels of Laotian courts on the interpretation of the Master Contract went against Sanum, and in the Tribunal's view, neither the interpretation given by those Courts to the agreements nor the judicial process offended international standards.¹⁵⁴

255. The Tribunal heard the viva voce testimony of Judge Soulideth Souvannasaly, one of the judges who heard the Sanum case at first instance. He disputed Mr. Pipes' evidence about Government interference¹⁵⁵ and testified that, contrary to Mr. Pipes' Witness Statement, Sanum did not press its earlier request for an adjournment when its case came on for a hearing.¹⁵⁶

¹⁵³Mr. Franck Charles Arif v. Republic of Moldova, ICSID Case No. ARB/11/23, Award, at paras. 481, Exhibit CLA(LH)-041.

¹⁵⁴ As stated by the Jan de Nul N.V. and Dredging International N.V. v. Arab Republic of Egypt, ICSID Case No. ARB/04/13, Award, para. 209:

It is not the role of a tribunal constituted on the basis of a BIT to act as a court of appeal for national courts. The task of the Tribunal is rather to determine whether the Judgment is "clearly improper and discreditable" in the words of the Mondev tribunal.

Professor Ascensio Expert Report, Exhibit PJ-24.

¹⁵⁵ Judge Soulideth testified:

Q. And when you say, "That is not the truth", what were you referring to?

A. I meant what Mr. Pipes said was untrue.

Q. Regardless of what Mr. Pipes said to you, it's true that you were under pressure to resolve case 52 between ST and Sanum quickly; correct?

A. No.

Amended Transcript, 6 September 2018, p. 12, 18-24.

¹⁵⁶ Judge Soulideth further testified:

Q. You received a request for postponement from Sanum on 25 July 2012. My question is: in the courtroom, on 26 July 2012, did you ask anyone representing Sanum if they wished to press their request for a postponement?

* * * * *

256. The Tribunal considers 48 hours to be an excessively short notice for a trial but Judge Soulideth testified that when the trial was called, Sanum was present in Court and, having failed to press its request for an adjournment, there was nothing to prevent the case from proceeding and it did proceed with the participation of Sanum's representatives.
257. Moreover, according to Judge Soulideth, Sanum was free to present evidence and make such submissions as it saw fit. Judge Soulideth denied that the disposition of the case had been decided prior to the hearing (contrary to the witness statement of Richard Pipes). The narrative portion of the judgment had been drafted beforehand based on the documentation (a customary practice in Laos, according to the Judge), but the "consideration" and "decision" were not written until following the panel deliberations after the hearing.¹⁵⁷
258. The Tribunal would have been interested in hearing from the Sanum representatives who were present at the trial but they were not called. In the circumstances, the Tribunal accepts the evidence of Judge Soulideth and rejects the allegations of the Claimants that this was a "directed case" whose outcome was "mandated by high ranking Government officials" as unproven. On the evidence, there was no breach of fair and equitable treatment or other Treaty violation, and no wrongful treatment by the judiciary of the Claimant's Thanaleng investment by denial of justice or otherwise.

8.5. Did The Respondent's Treatment of Savan Vegas Breach Articles 3(1) and 3(4) of the Treaty?

259. As mentioned, the Government, which was a shareholder in the Savan Vegas project, initiated an audit by E&Y.

A. So, I asked this Sanum personally in the courtroom that, "Do you wish to proceed or do you wish to still have that postponement that you submitted on 25 July 2012?", but they did not – they did not say they did.

Amended Transcript, 6 September 2018, p. 49, 6-21.

¹⁵⁷ Judge Soulideth testified:

It was not until our deliberation that we reached a decision and drafted the remaining part of the "Consideration" and the "Decision" section of the Court Decision (from the last line of page 4 of the Court Decision – "...this act as violation of the agreement according to Article 33 of the Contract Law." These can be found on pages 5 and 6 of the Court Decision.

Judge Soulideth Witness Statement, para. 14; Claimants' Opening Submissions, slide 72.

8.5.1. The Claimant's Argument

260. The Claimant says that the Government's audit proceeded in bad faith and constituted one of the wrongful acts orchestrated by the Government to assist ST¹⁵⁸ in its ongoing dispute with the Claimant. In the result, Article 3(4) of the Treaty was breached because of non-compliance with the Government's contractual obligations. Moreover, the Claimant argues, Article 3(1) was also breached because:

- (a) the Government's abusive exercise of authority (as Government not shareholder) was inconsistent with the good faith principle embedded in the FET standard;
- (b) even if not adopted for an improper purpose, measures that are arbitrary and discriminatory are also inconsistent with the FET;
- (c) the audit was conducted in an unreasonable manner that impaired the LHNV's enjoyment of its investment;¹⁵⁹

261. As a result of the audit and other wrongful conduct, the Government is said to have imposed on Savan Vegas "unlawful and discriminatory tax demands in the amount of US $23.8 million."¹⁶⁰ Moreover, the Ferry Terminal Slot Club was taxed at a rate grossly in excess of the tax rate imposed on ST and, was therefore discriminatory.¹⁶¹

8.5.2. The Respondent's Argument

262. The Parties settled any and all claims with respect to pre-July 2014 taxes as part of the mutual commitments contained in Article 7 of the Settlement¹⁶² which provided that:

Laos shall forgive and waive any and all taxes and related interest and penalties due and payable by the Claimants and the Gaming Assets up to 1 July 2014 in respect of the Gaming Assets, provided, however, that taxes shall be due and payable as from 1 July 2014 as provided in Section 8 below. The taxes covered herein are all taxes and fees including but not limited to those that are specifically indicated in Article 1 of the previously signed FTA attached as Annex D hereto.

263. The Claimant accepted the tax waiver as part of the Settlement for which mutual releases were exchanged, and the Claimant cannot now complain about tax measures which are not properly part of this arbitration.
264. Equally, any tax issues arising after 1 July 2014 are outside the scope of this arbitration.

8.5.3. The Tribunal's Ruling

265. With respect to the E&Y audit, the Respondent had good cause for concern about the accounts of Savan Vegas. Sanum had not complied with its reporting obligations. The Claimant LHNV has failed to establish bad faith on the part of the Respondent in pushing for an audit in furtherance of its rights as a significant shareholder in Savan Vegas.
266. Nor was the Government conduct arbitrary. It had not received information it was owed by reason of its shareholding interest in Savan Vegas. The request for an audit was not abusive, and in the end the Government's suspicions were vindicated by the disclosure of serious financial irregularities.
267. There is no credible evidence that the E&Y audit was conducted in an unreasonable manner. Sanum's CFO, Mr. Clay Crawford, testified that E&Y made excessive information demands that interfered with the efficient operation of the business but the Tribunal heard no expert evidence from an independent auditor that E&Y departed from normal audit practice.
268. Moreover, as earlier stated, the Tribunal is of the view that on a balance of probabilities Mr. Baldwin dealt in bad faith with the Government in arranging illicit payments to stop the E&Y audit prior to its completion.
269. The Claimant has not established any breach of contractual (or Treaty) obligations in respect of Savan Vegas by the Government.

270. As to the tax issues at Savan Vegas and the Ferry Terminal, it has already been pointed out that the tax waiver was effective up to and including 1 July 2014.¹⁶³ The tax complaints were not revived by the outcome of the Second Material Breach Application which did not set aside the Settlement but implemented it.

8.6. Alleged Violations of Treaty Rights in Respect of the Paksan Slot Club, Lao Bao and the Savannakhet Ferry Dock

271. The Claimant's allegations of wrongful acts and Treaty breaches in respect of these investments have already been reviewed at length in the earlier reasoning of this Award. While the Claimants did not press their complaints in respect of Lao Bao and the Savannakhet Slot Clubs at the Hearing, those complaints relate essentially to tax matters which were resolved with the 2014 Settlement. To the extent the complaints in this respect were not withdrawn, they are dismissed.

8.7. Allegation that the Respondent Violated Article 3(4) of the Treaty (Umbrella Clause Claims)

272. The Claimants argue that the Government repudiated its contractual obligations as follows:

- (a) the Respondent imposed construction and brokerage taxes and overtime fees in violation of the FTA;¹⁶⁴ and
- (b) the audit of Savan Vegas violated provisions in the Shareholders' Agreement and the PDA that protected Savan Vegas from unreasonable document and information requests.¹⁶⁵

¹⁶³ United Nations International Law Commission, Articles on Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts, with commentaries (2001), Exhibit CLA(LH)-087:

Article 45: Loss of the right to invoke responsibility:

The responsibility of a State may not be invoked if:

(a) the injured State has validly waived the claim;

(b) the injured State is to be considered as having, by reason of its conduct, validly acquiesced in the lapse of the claim.

¹⁶⁴ Claimant's Memorial at para. 243.

¹⁶⁵ Claimant's Memorial at para. 242.

273. In the Tribunal's view, for the reasons already explained:
- (a) the tax complaints were rendered moot by Article 7 of the Settlement;
 - (b) the Claimant has not established that construction and brokerage taxes and overtime fees were wrongfully imposed;
 - (c) the Claimant has not established that the Government's document and information requests in respect of Savan Vegas were unreasonable.

8.8. Allegations of Discriminatory and Less Favourable Treatment With Respect to Investments pursuant to Article 3(2) and Article 4 of the Treaty

274. The Claimant alleges discriminatory and less favourable treatment with respect to Sanum and its investments:
- (a) by imposing a 30% tax rate on the Ferry Terminal Slot Club, which was over 100 times more than the 0.22% rate charged to ST;¹⁶⁶
 - (b) by assisting ST in ejecting Sanum from its Thanaleng joint venture investment;¹⁶⁷
 - (c) by pursuing an unlawful audit by E&Y which favoured ST over Sanum by nourishing ST's attack on Sanum's management of Savan Vegas.¹⁶⁸
275. The Tribunal has already rejected complaints (b) and (c). With respect to complaint (a), Article 7 of the Settlement in respect of tax issues foreclosed any liability of the Claimant or the Government with respect to the imposition of such taxes prior to 1 July 2014, including the claim of discrimination.
276. In any event, the Claimants are in no position to complain of discrimination in the tax system when much of the efforts of the Claimants were directed at obtaining special treatment under an FTA and its extension for a further five years. To the extent other corporate entities in Laos also obtained special rates, the fact remains that the Claimant paid less tax than the law would otherwise have required, and, more importantly, whatever it owed was forgiven by the Settlement, so even if there had been breaches (which has not been shown to be the case), there was no loss or damage that could justify compensation.

277. The Claimant LHNV has failed to establish any factual foundation for its complaints of Treaty breaches in respect of Thanaleng and Savan Vegas as previously discussed.

8.9. Bad Faith

278. While the Tribunal finds the Respondent's allegations of bribery lack sufficient "clear and convincing evidence" to justify an affirmative finding of specific acts of corruption, nevertheless the probable existence of illicit payments to Madam Sengkeo and through her to Government officials falls to be considered under the general allegation of bad faith.
279. When the Tribunal steps back and views the Claimants' entire course of conduct at issue in these proceedings as particularized above, including the probability of corruption in the Claimants' orchestration of the termination of the E&Y audit (itself an act of bad faith), the manipulation of Government authorities to obtain a gambling licence at Thakhaek and the commitments made in the Paksong PDA without any intention of building the US $25 million hotel and casino which was its basic requirement, thereby eliminating the opportunity for other more serious investors to apply for gaming facilities in the Claimants' monopoly area, all support the conclusion that the Claimants were contemptuous of the commitments that came with the advantages of their Laotian investments. Mr. Baldwin's testimony only served to confirm the Tribunal in that unfavourable view.
280. While the Tribunal has already rejected the Claimants' allegations for the reasons detailed above, the Claimants' bad faith initiation of some investments and bad faith performance of other investment agreements (as detailed above) and the attempt of Mr. Baldwin to compromise the integrity of this arbitration through an inducement to Madam Sengkeo not to testify provide added reasons to deny the Claimant LHNV the benefit of Treaty protection.

9. DISPOSITION ON COSTS

281. The Respondent Government claims costs for the period from 26 April 2016 through 22 February 2019 in respect of lawyers' fees and expenses in the amount of $1,467,483.72.¹⁶⁹ These fees are exclusive of and apart from the costs sought by the Government arising out of Sanum Investments Limited v. The Government of the Lao People's Democratic Republic, PCA Case No. 2013-13, which was not consolidated with this case but for the most part was heard jointly with it. (The Respondent Government claims a total of US $2,780,736.03 in respect of both the ICSID and PCA proceedings). By way of comparison, the Claimants indicated that if successful (and even if not wholly successful) they would be seeking US $ 20,929,951.36 in total in respect of both the ICSID and PCA proceedings. The Claimant's claim, unlike the Respondent's claim, does include the expenses and charges of the respective Secretariats.

282. Article 58 of the ICSID Arbitration (AF) Rules provides:

(1) Unless the parties otherwise agree, the Tribunal shall decide how and by whom the fees and expenses of the members of the Tribunal, the expenses and charges of the Secretariat and the expenses incurred by the parties in connection with the proceeding shall be borne. The Tribunal may, to that end, call on the Secretariat and the parties to provide it with the information it needs in order to formulate the division of the cost of the proceeding between the parties.

(2) The decision of the Tribunal pursuant to paragraph (1) of this Article shall form part of the award.

283. Article 58 grants the Tribunal broad discretionary power to allocate costs, based on the circumstances of the case. "While there is some variation in tribunals' practices, the prevailing approach of international investment tribunals is to order costs to follow the event."¹⁷⁰ LHNV itself has accepted the application cost-shifting principle in this

¹⁶⁹ The Respondent reserved all rights to claim additional attorneys' fees and expenses, in particular if this Tribunal makes any further requests, including requests for further submissions

Republic of Turkey*, ICSID Case No. ARB/07/20, Award, dated 14 July 2010, ¶¶ 152-155); see, e.g., *Telenor Mobile Communications A.S. v. arbitration—having already submitted its request for “costs and expenses of this proceeding, including attorneys’ fees.”¹⁷¹

284. According to the Claimants, the quantum of their original claims if wholly successful, might have reached US $ 1 billion.
285. The costs claim advanced by LHNV and Sanum include US $10,109,872.71 for legal work prior to the Settlement of June 15, 2014.¹⁷² The Respondent’s claim commences post-settlement, specifically from 26 April 2016.¹⁷³ Thereafter, until 23 February 2017, the Respondent’s claim is made only for the ICSID proceedings, as during that time only the ICSID Tribunal was active – i.e., after the Claimant LHNV filed its Second Material Breach Application, but before the date the Claimant Sanum filed its Second Material Breach Application before the PCA Tribunal. From and after 23 February 2017 the two cases (ICSID Case No. ARB(AF)/12/6 and PCA Case No. 2013-13) proceeded in parallel although, as mentioned, not consolidated.
286. Thus, after 23 February 2017, work on all written submissions, evidentiary applications, interim conferences and hearings as well as the Hearing were combined, then evenly divided as between the ICSID proceedings and the PCA proceedings. In the result, the Respondent seeks an order that the Claimant LHNV pay 50% of its legal costs, including lawyers’ fees and expenses, incurred from 23 February 2017, through to the present.¹⁷⁴
287. The Claimant points out that it was successful on a number of the interlocutory matters including a defeat of the Government’s jurisdictional challenges and establishment in the Second Material Breach Application that the Government had failed in two important aspects to honour the Settlement, namely the establishment of a new FTA to assist in the sale of Savan Vegas, and the Government’s failure to halt existing and potential criminal proceedings.¹⁷⁵ These were important successes for the Claimants but in the end, they failed to establish after years of litigation any liability on the part of the Government in respect of any of the myriad of claims of Treaty violations (as distinguished from two breaches of the 2014 Settlement Agreement, as mentioned). In the circumstances, the Tribunal thinks it appropriate, in its discretion, to award the Respondent its lawyer fees and expenses in the sum of US $1,293,720.27.

9.1. Expenses

9.1.1. Travel Expenses

288. The Respondent's travel expenses represent travel to Brussels and Singapore twice by various witnesses and the Respondent's lawyers and staff, for matters involving the Tribunal. These travel expenses also include travel to Laos, Paris, and Hong Kong for matters such as fact development, evidence gathering and document review.¹⁷⁶

9.1.2. Miscellaneous Services and Expenses

289. The remainder of the Respondent's expenses relate to services and expenses required to pursue the arbitrations, some of which were incurred in-house and others by external vendors. Such services include translation services; court reporter and transcript fees; express delivery expenses; research; and trial preparation services in Singapore, such as copying, binding presentations, and creating witness and evidentiary notebooks.

290. The Respondent's total expenses (other than legal fees and expenses) requested in this arbitration amount to US $173,763.45.¹⁷⁷ This sum, taken together with legal fees and expenses of US $1,293,720.27 produces a costs award of US $1,467,483.72.

* The arbitrator's fees and expenses of Professor Hanotiau and Professor Stern have been equally divided between the ICSID and PCA proceedings. The amount shown here represents the ICSID portion.

9.2. Arbitration Costs

291. The costs of the arbitration, including the fees and expenses of the Tribunal, ICSID's administrative fees and direct expenses, amount to (in US dollars):¹⁷⁸

Arbitrators' fees and expenses
Honourable Ian Binnie	US$ 466,076.51
Prof. Bernard Hanotiau*	US$ 393,410.86
Prof. Brigitte Stern*	US$ 358,712.38
ICSID's administrative fees	US$ 244,000
Direct expenses (estimated) ¹⁷⁹	US$273,590
Total	US$ 1,735,789

292. The above costs have been paid out of the advances made by the Parties which were not made in equal parts. The Claimant made advance payments for a total of US $1,274,969 and the Respondent made advances for a total of US $481,622.95. The Tribunal orders the Claimant LHNV to bear all the arbitration costs of the ICSID proceeding. Accordingly, the Tribunal orders the Claimant to pay the Respondent US$ 481,622.95 for the expended portion of the Respondent's advances to ICSID.

10. DISPOSITION

293. In the Tribunal's view, the Claimant LHNV has failed to meet the evidentiary onus of establishing facts necessary to support its legal arguments. The claims are therefore dismissed.

294. The Claimant shall pay the Respondent US$ 481,622.95 in arbitration costs and US$ 1,467,483.72 for the Respondent's legal representation costs and expenses.
